Poor, Tired Finance
Ford's Easy Answer
Accessible Solitude
The Spartans Tried It

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

POOR Wall Street brokers. Another [illegible] day yesterday [illegible] financiers even plan a five-day week. Their work is too hard."

The public would howl if men working in steel mills, subways, etc., [illegible] a five-day week.

THE Senate will ask Henry Ford how he can pay coal miners more than experienced mine owners pay, [illegible] than the unions demand. Ford would answer 'I have brains and [illegible]'

ONLY recently the Osservatore Romano, mouthpiece of the Vatican, spoke hopefully of an understanding between Mussolini's ruling party and the pope.

A sudden change puzzles Europe. Mussolini, in rather plain words, threatens to suppress Catholic organizations in the education of youth, saying the government must control and prepare the minds of future citizens.

The Spartans did that, taking children from their parents, Sparta did not [illegible].

IT is not the present pope's intention [illegible] to accept Mussolini as a temporal pope accepted Rienzi. A few years will show what chance one powerful man has against skillful Vatican diplomacy, built up through centuries.

ONE hundred congressmen indorse Mr. Hoover's candidacy. Fully half the 247 Republican representatives will join the Hoover committee of 1000.

Senators are less friendly. So are those "big men" that occasionally buy Senate seats for deserving individuals. Mr. Hoover probably realizes that those big men with influence in the Senate will have a good deal to say in the Republican convention. Ask George Harvey.

MR. SMITH, iron manufacturer, of Milwaukee, is building 107,000 feet of electrically welded pipe to connect southern oil wells with northern markets.

President Kingsbury of Standard Oil of California has two Pittsburgh mills turning out 15,000 tons of pipe. The oil business has grown since the day when its best customer was the [illegible] oil lamp.

HENRY FORD also cheers the steel business by placing heavy orders with Mahoning Valley steel mills for strips and sheets. He is a heavy buyer also of bars and cold finished steel. Evidently his "production line" is regaining speed.

WHEN you talk about humanity you are a bore. When you talk about money you are a brainy business man. E. L. Hoffman, Prudential Insurance statistician, says an end of the [illegible] penalty, with quick trials and life imprisonment, would discourage murder, at present increasing all over the United States.

THE boys of Yale, 144 to 114, decide that prohibition has done Yale more harm than good.

If the young gentlemen would vote unanimously to drink no bootleg liquor, prohibition couldn't do Yale any harm.

By 50 to 0 the Senate passes the [illegible] Flood Control bill, involving $325,000,000. Republicans want to get in. Democrats want to get in.

"WHITE AUSTRALIA" is the popular cry. An American Negro band has been deported by the House of Representatives of New South Wales. All Negroes are to be barred, [illegible] as Chinese and other Asiatics.

CIVIC PROJECT IS BACKED BY JUNIOR C. OF C.

Marion Forward Movement Assured Support of Young Men's Organization

MEMBERSHIP GROWS

Reports at Banquet Show Junior Chamber Enrollment Almost Doubled

Support of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce was assured the Marion Civic Association at a meeting of the Junior Chamber held last night in connection with the membership campaign which has been in progress for several weeks.

That the membership drive has been a success and met with the support of the younger men of the city was indicated by the statement of Paul E. Piersol that membership of the Chamber had been doubled and would go above the 300 mark. A complete check of the results of the campaign have not been made but it is thought that 30 or more new members have been added. Piersol is vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and heads the committee on membership and expansion which was in charge of the drive and banquet arrangements. He also served as chairman of last night's meeting.

Plans for Airport

Results of the Junior Chamber of Commerce's efforts in connection with the municipal airport proposed for the city, which the organization is sponsoring, were placed before the body by Charles Whysall, head of the airport committee. So far the committee has confined its activities to gathering data concerning municipal flying fields in others cities, according to Whysall's report.

Following a banquet served in the ballroom of the Harding Hotel the organization was addressed by Edwin H. Tiemeyer, Cincinnati, former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce there. In his talk he touched on the history of the Junior Chamber of Commerce movement and told of its founding in St. Louis.

He pointed out the advantage a young man derives from association with a movement of this kind.

AIRPORT COMMITTEE IS NAMED BY ELKS

Lodge Votes To Cooperate with Junior Chamber of Commerce Project

A committee to work in conjunction with the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce on plans for a municipal airport which the Junior Chamber is backing was appointed last night at a meeting of Marion Lodge of Elks. The committee was named in compliance with an invitation sent Marion civic and fraternal organizations by the Junior Chamber to co-operate in the airport movement.

Three candidates were initiated and plans for a potluck supper to be given next Wednesday night were discussed. Officers of the lodge for the coming year will be installed at a meeting next Thursday night.

Following the meeting a turtle soup supper, prepared by William Miley, was served.

INDICT MAN

Will Be Arraigned on Charge of Murdering Viola May

New Philadelphia, March 30—William D. Herron, 41, indicted for the murder of Miss Viola May, 21, whose body was found in the Tuscarawas River last Monday, will be arraigned before Common Pleas Judge E. E. Lindsay, tomorrow morning, according to announcement at the county prosecutor's office here today.

Mrs. Bessie Herron, wife of the accused man, made her first public statement here late yesterday in which she declared that Viola May attempted to break up their home.

According to a confession alleged to have been made by Herron, he killed the May girl after she had resisted his advances, and then threw her body into the river.

KING TO QUIT?

Paper Says He Will Make Way for Mussolini

London, March 30—King Victor Emanuel of Italy may abdicate his throne, opening the way for Mussolini to become the supreme power of the kingdom both in name and in fact, according to an unconfirmed report printed by the Labor-Socialist newspaper Daily Herald.

It was contained in a dispatch dated "Italian Frontier." The report was received here with the utmost skepticism owing to the Daily Herald's attitude of hostility against Mussolini.

Marion County Faces Flood Menace After Storm Which Deluges Large Ohio Area

Rivers and Streams in This Section Reported Rising; Many Localities in Northern Part of State Reported Isolated

Many sections of Northern Ohio were practically isolated today following one of the most violent rain and sleet storms in the history of the northern lake section.

Telegraph and telephone lines were down and communication with a number of towns in the northern part of the state was impossible.

Fallen telephone poles and low-hanging wires obstructed many highways. No accurate estimate of the loss could be attempted but an official of the American Telephone & Telegraph said today that in his opinion it would exceed $100,000.

A bus which left Cincinnati at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon did not reach Bowling Green until 9 o'clock this morning. Service on several traction lines, including the Toledo, Bowling Green & Southern, was suspended. Lights and electric power were reported off in many sections.

County Streams Rising

While there has been no serious damage as yet from high water resulting from the heavy rains of the last 24 hours, streams are expected to reach flood stage in the western section of Marion County by midnight, according to information from the office of the county surveyor.

At noon today streams were still confined to their banks but at the rate of rise during the night and morning it was estimated that by late tonight flood waters would sweep over sections of the western part of the county.

Water in the Scioto River was within two feet of the Clark dike west of LaRue this morning, according to A C Lamb of the county surveyor's office. Lamb spent the morning in the western section of the county.

Situation at Prospect

In the section around Prospect the river is not expected to reach flood stage before Saturday, although reports from there this morning said that the water was rising rapidly.

A survey of the eastern section of the county was being made this afternoon by County Surveyor Cecil H. Leavens. This section is not expected to suffer seriously from the storms and high water.

A sleet and wind storm that struck north of Marion yesterday afternoon and night did considerable damage according to reports this morning. Telephone lines and poles were blown down and roads in some cases had to be cleared of the debris before traffic could move.

CONSCIENCE FUND IS LACKING IN INTEREST

Borah Plans Plea Over Radio as Contributions Reach Only $7,000

Washington, March 30—Senator William E. Borah is finding that even though many people may look upon the oil scandals as he does, they are not saying so with checks.

The Borah conscience fund, with which he intends to repay Harry F. Sinclair the $160,000 the oil magnate donated to the Republican National Committee, totaled less than $7,000 today—two weeks after the subscription books were opened to the public.

At this rate, it will take considerable more than a year to raise the amount. And gifts have been coming slower and slower. Most of them came, in fact, the first week, and the last week has seen only a trickling of small checks and $1 bills.

The Idaho Senator is considering broadcasting by radio an appeal to Republican consciences not to let the project fail.

When he started the fund, Borah was of the opinion the fund "could be raised in five days."

Stinson and Haldeman Set New Mark; Up Over 52 Hours

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., March 30—The world's record for sustained aerial flight came back to the United States today when Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman, in their big Stinson-Detroiter monoplane, officially passed the mark of 53 hours and 23 minutes set by two German fliers in Europe.

But having officially broken the old world's endurance record, Stinson and Haldeman kept the air in their attempt to establish an official record of at least 55 hours.

At 12 seconds past 1 o'clock, eastern standard time, the two aviators officially broke the old record held by the German fliers. A few minutes after this, a plane, bearing a printed sign five stories high, the huge Stinson-Detroiter which since 7:27 a. m., Wednesday has been circling to and from the beach.

The sign read:

"Congratulations from the American people for bringing world's record back to the United States."

THREE ENTERED IN ORATORICAL EVENT TONIGHT

Marion County's Representative in National Contest To Be Chosen

STARTS AT 8 O'CLOCK

Two Girls and Boy To Compete in Meeting at Star Auditorium

Marion County's representative in the National Oratorical Contest will be known tonight.

The elimination contest, second step in the oratorical competition which has as its goal the title of national oratorical champion and eight trips to Europe this summer, will be held in Star Auditorium beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

Three students will take part, two girls and a boy. The girls are Naomi Clouse, representing Caledonia, and Leulla Northrup, representing Prospect. Carl Whitman of LaRue is the boy entered in the contest. They will speak on "The Development of the Constitution" or "The Present Significance of the Constitution," the two subjects presented in the competition.

Plan for Semi-Finals

Tonight's winner in Marion County will be entered along with representatives of more than 10 other districts in the district semi-finals to be held here Friday night, April 20. At that time three prizes, aggregating $150 will be given to the winners, while the first prize winner also will be given a trip to Canton a week later when the state finals are held.

The contest has as its objects, first, to increase interest in and respect for the basic principles of government in each of the participating nations; and, second, to promote a better understanding between nations by means of a frank and friendly exchange of national viewpoints.

Tonight's contest, which will be judged by Common Pleas Judge George B Scofield, Rev. J. W. Schilling and Miss Edith Brown, will be free to the public and The Star cordially invites all of its readers to attend the orations.

CANTON DOPE FIGHT MAY GET U. S. HELP

Seven Arrested by Vice Squad in Several Raids on Narcotic Trade

Cleveland, March 30—That federal authorities will aid Canton police in their "clean-up" of narcotic trading was indicated with the announcement here by federal officials that Howell Leuck, assistant United States district attorney had made a trip to Canton.

The Canton "clean-up" was started Thursday when Chief of Police Earl Hexamer led his vice squad on several raids which netted seven prisoners. Included in the arrests was Jack Turner 31, who was brought here, pleaded not guilty and was held under bond of $10,000. Canton police allege Turner inherited the "dope trade" of Theodore "Teddy" Abbey, "jungle overlord" in the days preceding the Don Mellett murder. Abbey is now serving a nine-year sentence in Atlanta Penitentiary.

HENRY FORD READY FOR EUROPEAN TRIP

Secrecy Follows Arrival of Manufacturer and Wife in New York

New York, March 30—Henry Ford, accompanied by Mrs. Ford, arrived in New York today on the first leg of a "mystery trip" to Europe. They are expected to sail tonight, it was learned, on the White Star liner Majestic.

It will be the motor magnate's first journey abroad since his vain peace junket in 1916, when he departed for France with the expressed determination to "end the war before Christmas."

Closest secrecy attended his arrival on the Wolverine Express. His private car was uncoupled from the train and shunted to a baggage track, but reporters recognized Mr. Ford.

A fleet of automobiles was assembled about Grand Central Terminal as the Wolverine pulled in. One of the cars was driven into a baggage elevator and taken to the train level.

Gaston Plantiff, eastern representative for the Ford Motor Co. met his chief and hurried him into the elevator, where he stepped into the waiting automobile, which had its shades drawn.

A cordon of police protected the billionaire from intrusion and he and Mrs. Ford, with Plantiff, were driven to the Ritz Carleton Hotel.

'Nonsense!' Declare Over-70 Statesmen in Webb Answer

WASHINGTON, March 30—Age should be no bar to public office.

The elder group in Senate and House agreed upon this today in replying to Sidney Webb, Laborite member of the British House of Commons, who said Parliament members should be forced to retire at the age of 70.

"Nonsense" and "ridiculous," were among the characterizations of Webb's proposal.

America has comparatively few elder statesmen. None is 100.

But two members of Congress are over 80. They are Representative Stedman, Democrat of North Carolina, 87, and Senator Warren, Republican of Wyoming, 83. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the Supreme Court is 17 days younger than Stedman. All three are active and belie their ages.

There are 21 members more than 70, including Representative Burton, Republican of Ohio, 77, Representative Butler, Republican of Pennsylvania, 73, and Senators Overman and Simmons, Democrats, North Carolina, both 74.

HE'S NOT AFRAID

General Nobile To Start Polar Dash on Friday the 13th

ROME, March 30—Utterly ignoring superstition, Gen. Umberto Nobile has fixed Friday the thirteenth of April as the date upon which he will depart from Milan in the dirigible Italia in an attempt to reach the North Pole.

The airship will be blessed by Cardinal Tosi on the Sunday preceding the day set for for the departure. Premier Mussolini is expected to be present at the ceremonies.

CHURCH-STATE GAP WIDENED

Mussolini Orders All Italian Youth-Training Groups Dissolved

Rome, March 30—Just as it began to appear that the tension between the Vatican and Premier Mussolini was easing, "Il Duce" took vigorous official action this afternoon which, it is believed, will widen still further the breach between the Church and the state.

Premier Mussolini introduced a decree at a cabinet council ordering the disbandment within a month of all organizations for the training of Italian youth except the Fascist "Balillas." This order means that such church organizations as the Catholic Boy Scouts, which is maintained by the Vatican, must be dissolved.

Mussolini acted with characteristic energy to back up his threat made on Wednesday that the Fascist organization might assume a monopoly in the training of Italian youth.

As the education and training of boys and young men was the chief stumbling block in the way of settlement of the "Roman question" it was believed that the developments today put a solution of this 58-year-old dispute far into the future.

The latest tension between the Vatican and the government grew out of certain remarks of Pope Pius XI before the diocesan council of Rome when he criticized policies of the Mussolini government. This was followed by sharp retort from "Il Duce."

MRS. COOLIDGE FAILS RAPIDLY, IS REPORT

Mrs. Coolidge's Mother Believed Near Death in Northampton Hospital

Northampton, Mass., March 30—Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, aged mother of the first lady of the land, is failing rapidly at the Cooley Dickinson Hospital, and even the presence of her loved daughter can not long ward off death, it was apparent today.

She had rallied so greatly after her daughter's first visit to the hospital that her physicians began to hope that their first fears had been needless, but the false strength soon ebbed.

Mrs. Goodhue is so weak that Mrs. Coolidge will be her only visitor today, and that for but a brief period.

When John Coolidge and his mother visited the hospital, John did not go to his grandmother's bedside on the advice of her physician.

STILL EAT MEAT

Arctic Explorers Thriving on Diet of Lamb and Beef

Boston, March 30—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the "lion of the north," and his Arctic companion, Karsten Anderson, are still thriving on a meat diet.

Stefansson is eating mostly lamb and Anderson beef, the explorer revealed today.

The experiment on Anderson is being conducted for one hundred days at Bellevue Hospital, New York. For 21 hours a day, Anderson is under observation, being allowed three hours for exercise.

LIQUOR CARGO VALUED AT $150,000 SEIZED ON SHIP

New York, March 30—The captain and seven of the crew of the schooner W. E. Litchfield were held today following seizure of a cargo of liquor valued at $150,000, allegedly found on the vessel as she lay in the Hudson, off Yonkers.

REMUS SCORES, IS FREED FROM STATE ASYLUM

Court of Appeals Hands Down Order Releasing Acquitted Slayer

Lima, March 30—George Remus erstwhile "king of the bootleggers," who killed his wife and then convinced a jury that he was not guilty because of insanity, scored his final triumph today when the Court of Appeals ordered him released from the state asylum here where he has been confined as a result of the murder trial verdict.

Remus killed his wife, Imogene, in Cincinnati because, he said, she had been carrying on an affair with Franklin Dodge, former federal prohibition agent. Himself an attorney, Remus pleaded his own case before a Cincinnati jury which declared him "not guilty on the sole grounds of insanity."

Following a sanity hearing he was ordered committed to the state hospital at Lima. An application for a writ of habeas corpus was then entered in the Third District Court of Appeals here based on the contention that the papers committing Remus to the state institution had not been properly signed.

After a hearing several weeks ago the court withheld a final decision in the case pending further observation by Dr. W. H. Borbau, superintendent of the hospital, and other physicians. Presumably, these observers have now pronounced Remus responsible, and safe to be at large, and on these findings the court ordered his release.

MARYLAND CITY IS DAMAGED BY BLAZE

Entire Business District in Crisfield, Md., Virtually Is Wiped Out

Crisfield, Md., March 30—Fire originating at the Arcade Theater last night virtually wiped out the entire uptown business section of this oyster town, and still was burning today although firemen from six companies had it under control after an all night battle.

Several hundred persons in the theater were led to safety without panic when the fire started.

Damage is estimated at between $750,000 and $1,000,000, and one person is in the hospital seriously injured. Two other persons known to have been in the burning area are unaccounted for. The town, of approximately 15,000, was in total darkness within a short time after the fire started when the electric light plant was caught in the path of the wind swept flames.

Frank Morgan of this city, who was injured by falling walls, died in the Memorial Hospital at Elkton an hour after he was hurt.

POWER CO. ELECTS NEW VICE PRESIDENT

P. T. Craig Named To Fill Vacancy Caused by Resignation of F. B. Morrison

Presley T. Craig, of Pittsburgh, has been elected vice president of the Power Manufacturing Co. as successor to Frank B. Morrison, who resigned recently to become sales manager of the General Excavator Co.

Mr. Craig, it was stated at the office of the Power Co. today, will not locate in Marion but still handle his duties as vice president from the company's Pittsburgh office.

No appointment has been made as yet to fill the position of general manager, which was also included in Mr. Morrison's official connection with the company.

The management is now in charge of Albert D. Craig, president of the company, who divides his time between the local plant and his office in Pittsburgh.

Another, Relative of Slain Esposito, Believed Burned to Death

Washington, March 30—An official request reached the Department of Justice today for the detailing of 500 special U. S. marshals to act as poll-watchers at Chicago's hotly-contested primary.

The request came in telegraphic form from Palmer Anderson, U. S. marshal at Chicago, a Deneen appointee, and is said to have been approved by District Attorney Johnson, also a Deneen appointee.

Attorney General Sargent is leaving the capital today, not to return until Monday, and it was said no consideration would be given the request until his return.

It is not believed here that the request will be granted.

Chicago, March 30—Liquor raids and gun play, the fatal "rides" of gangland, fresh threats of bomb throwing, inquests and investigations—all these figured today in Chicago's worst pre-election reign of terror.

William Hratty, Municipal Court bailiff and Eighth Ward leader of the Republican faction headed by Mayor William Hale Thompson and State's Attorney Crowe, was shot and seriously wounded in a midnight raid by dry agents on a "soft drink" parlor.

Hratty was on his way to a political meeting with his wife when he stopped for a "glass of beer." Twelve prohibition agents, armed with shotguns, pistols, rifles and sledge hammers, staged a surprise raid on the place and in the commotion Hratty was shot.

The politician charged it was a deliberate attempt to assassinate him. Federal agents, however, declared Hratty was not fired upon until he drew a revolver. The man owes his life to a watch which he carried in a vest pocket. The bullet struck the watch which kept it from inflicting a fatal wound.

Man Is Burned

Several hours later, the body of a man identified by a card in his pocket as Paul Marchese, relative of the [illegible] leader, was found on a smouldering pyre where he had been burned, perhaps alive.

Fall's Story of Teapot Dome Deal Held in Great Secrecy

EX-SECRETARY TELLS OF LEASE

Gets Opportunity He Wanted To Unfold Details to Attorneys

El Paso, Tex., March 30—Held to the greatest secrecy, the inside story of the leasing of Teapot Dome to the Harry F. Sinclair oil interests, as told by Albert B. Fall, was being prepared today for transmission to Washington for the opening of Sinclair's trial scheduled for April 4.

Neither Daniel Thaw Wright, Sinclair's attorney, who questioned Fall at his home here yesterday, nor Atlee Pomerene, special government prosecutor, who was present to cross-examine the former secretary of the interior, would comment on the testimony in Fall's deposition.

The contents of the document, they stated, would not be made public until it is presented in the District of Columbia Supreme Court at Sinclair's trial. Attorney Wright said a special effort would be made to have the deposition on hand for the opening of the trial.

Too Weak To Be Seen

Fall, who is reported dying, was too weak after the ordeal to be seen by anyone outside the immediate members of his household.

The widely heralded "inside story" of the oil leases was unfolded in the library of Fall's colonial-style home which tops a wind-swept hill at the foot of Mount Franklin. Fall sat propped up in a great arm chair. Just above his head hung a huge portrait of the late President Warren G. Harding. To the right an log-filled colonial fireplace was a life-sized portrait of the Secretary Fall of long ago.

Attended by his personal physician, Dr. H. T. Safford, Judge Fall, Mrs. Fall and other members of the family received the party from Washington with typical southern courtesy. Almost every other person present was visibly more nervous than the former cabinet officer.

Given His Opportunity

Preliminaries were few. The Washington delegation made known their wants. Fall said he was ready. And there in the lofty library, with only his physician and loyal wife beside him, Fall got what he says he has demanded in all prior proceedings, the opportunity unhampered by legal counsel, of telling his side of the story of leasing Uncle Sam's lands to oil developers.

Although great secrecy surrounded the taking of Fall's deposition, it was learned that Sinclair's attorney questioned Fall only on matters relevent to the Sinclair case. Pomerene cross-examined the former cabinet officer for the government.

MANY HERE END COLDS WAY DOCTORS ADVISE

Find Hospital Tested Method Quick, Pleasant and Inexpensive for Home Use

Head colds, coughs and chest colds can be ended quickly—often in a few hours—by a method doctors now advise which vast numbers of Marion people have found to be ideal for home use.

M. B. Ellis, for example, caught cold several days ago while riding in an open car. He paid little attention to it until two mornings later, when his eyes became inflamed, and his nose was stopped up. Then, when a feeling of tightness across his chest caused fear of pneumonia, he called his physician for advice.

Relief began quickly when this doctor gave him Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—a concentrated mixture of wild cherry, terpin-hydrate and other ingredients which relieved even the most extreme hospital cases. With first pleasant swallow he felt the comforting, healing warmth from his nose passages deep down into his bronchial tubes. By lunch time his nose and chest had cleared up considerably. That night he could breathe freely and coughed only once or twice, and in a day or so, the doctor reports, he was completely rid of the cold.

Note: See other cases reported daily—all certified to this paper by the attending physician.

Doctors find that this hospital medicine does far more than stop coughing instantly. It penetrates and heals inflamed linings of the breathing passages. Absorbed by the system it quickly reduces phlegm, helps allay that "feverish", grippy feeling and drives out the cold from the nose passages, throat and chest.

Just a few pleasant spoonfuls of Cherry Pectoral now and you'll feel like a different person tomorrow. At all druggists, 90c; twice as much in $1.00 hospital size.

MARION BOY MEETS PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

George L. Scoechle One of Essay Contest Winners Received by Chief Executive

George L. Schoechle, 611 Windsor-st, was one of the eight children, winners of the essay contest sponsored by the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, received by President Coolidge at the White House yesterday noon.

George, with his mother, Mrs. Leo Schoechle, is enjoying a week's free trip to Washington, D. C., an award for his essay on "Modern Plumbing in the Home" submitted in the Federation's "More Adequately Equipped American Homes" contest. Winners were also given cash awards of $20.

WOMAN WHO SHOT HUSBAND IS SORRY

Noted Huntress To Ask Forgiveness; Mate Will Recover, Doctors Say

New York, March 30—Mrs. Esther Wilson, noted huntress of big game who shot her husband, Dallas Wilson, last night after he had refused to increase her monthly allowance from $450 to $1,000, said today that she was sorry and would ask his forgiveness.

Meanwhile physicians at Roosevelt Hospital announced that the wounds inflicted upon the wealthy attorney by his estranged wife were not as serious as was at first thought. The physicians said he would recover.

Wilson, who is 48, is an advisory member of the Republican National Committee. The Wilsons are well known in Washington, Baltimore and New York.

Questioned by Assistant District Attorney Joseph Pascolello, Mrs. Wilson repeated her early charges of infidelity against her husband. She gave the assistant district attorney the names of a number of women prominent in Washington and New York society.

After being interrogated, she was held pending furnishing of $1,000 bail. Police said that if bail was not posted, she would be arraigned in West Side Court this morning.

She said she saw Wilson after she had twice failed to bring about a reconciliation with him.

PLAN LONG TRIP

Spafford and Greene To Travel 10,000 Miles by Air

Pittsburgh, March 30—Edward E. Spafford, national commander of the American Legion, and Capt. R. G. Greene, Dayton, were to leave Bettis Field today on the first leg of a projected 10,000-mile good will tour of the Americas.

Arriving at McKeesport by rail from Washington, where they were guests of the Air Service Post of the American Legion, and escorted to the airport by a score of Spad planes, the two Legion officials were to take off in a Curtiss Falcon plane.

JACOB RINEHART, 63, HANGS SELF IN BARN

Nevada Man Had Planned to Retire From Farm April 1

Nevada, March 30—Ill health is thought by friends and relatives to have been the cause that prompted Henry Rinehart, 63, to commit suicide by hanging himself in the barn on his farm near here. Mr. Rinehart was found dead by a nephew, M. McVeigh, when he went into the barn Thursday morning.

Loss of the sight of one eye and heart disease had troubled Mr. Rinehart for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart had planned to retire from the farm on April 1 and had recently purchased a property in Nevada to which they planned to move.

The deceased is survived by the widow, Mrs. Addie Young Rinehart, two sisters, Mrs. Kate Rinehart, of Nevada, and Mrs. Dora Kinsey, of Tiffin, and one brother, Jacob Rinehart, of Crawford County. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Rinehart. The family home was near Nevada.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

GALION SENIORS TO GIVE "THE WHITE HEADED BOY"

Galion, March 30—"The White Headed Boy," a comedy of Irish life in three acts, by Lennox Robinson has been chosen as the Senior Class play this year and will be given late in May by a representative cast of the graduates. The play is one of unusual type and offers both difficult character roles and gay comedy parts. Mrs. Lorne E. Beck will direct the production and Theodore Schaefer will serve as chairman of the management committee.

PENSION GIVEN WIDOW

Rome, March 30—The government has awarded a lump sum of $100,000 and an annual pension of $10,000 to Madame Diaz, widow of the late Gen. Armando Diaz, Italy's famous war hero.

Dad's Proverb—"Fidelity purchased with money, money can destroy."

The feeling up in Chicago seems to be, if you can't get 100 per cent, Americanism into them any other way, bomb it into 'em.

It is interesting to note what is happening in the New York stock market to a lot of those stocks on which "you simply can't lose."

Paul Poiret now says he has no intention of moving his business to New York. Tut, tut, Paul! It can not be that you really needed the advertising.

Senator Borah is already beginning to suspect that there's a plan afoot in both the old parties to dodge the dry issue. Isn't Bill the discerning one?

Upon second thought, Massachusetts has decided not to place the cod on her automobile license plates, possibly figuring that the cod is far too sacred for such usage.

It's just a bit hard to get enthused over the great patriotism of Sandino, who went back to Nicaragua, after being exiled as an outlaw, to pick up some easy money, and refuses to get out again until he gets it.

Hall Caine says that "the faith that holds humanity together is that justice always triumphs over violence." Maybe so, Hall, but you'll have to admit that faith has been awfully strained since Mayor Bill Hale Thompson inaugurated his war on King George.

Two escaping Cleveland murderers have been shot to death, recently, by Ohio penitentiary guards. Manifestly, the penitentiary guards lack that feeling of consideration for murderers shown by Cuyahoga county jurors.

Direct telephone communication has been established between Paris and Chicago, and now a Parisian has, but to get a connection established to hear the popping of the machine guns.

Men are said to have impersonated congressmen to get chance to ride with Lindbergh. It's simply amazing to what extremes some people will go, even at the cost of their self-respect.

The soviet Russian government has already exported fourteen tons of gold to maintain her credit for the buying of necessities, crop failures having made impossible payments in grain. Russia's boasted example of the beauties of communism is in mighty hard lines.

The daughter of Ruth Snyder may lose the $97,000 insurance on the life of her murdered father, the insurance company setting up that the signature of the insured on the application was and is a forgery. Maybe it's all right, but at this distance it doesn't look wholly like good publicity.

Why Railroad Tracks Show Wear.

Maintaining railroad tracks is an endless undertaking. Gangs of men are ever at work on them some place. A rail is being put in here, a tie or two there, and the ballast is being renewed in places. One might think that the maintenance of a track would be a simple proposition. Iron rails, soft and light, are no longer used by railroads with which the most of us are familiar, nor do the ties rest upon a thin bed of sand and cinders over a roadbed of earth. Heavy steel rails are now in general use, laid on ties laid on a crushed stone foundation high enough to be above water save in time of flood and sufficiently open to permit of drainage. Under these conditions, why should there be this endless work of repairs and replacements? The most of us who have observed tack gangs at work must have at some time asked themselves this question.

A week or two ago we came upon some statistics prepared for the Railway Age which went a long way in giving an answer. They showed that the average mile of railway line in the United States last year handled seven passenger and seven freight trains daily. In the seven passenger trains were forty-six cars, which carried 116 passengers daily and the seven freight trains were made up of 375 cars, 205 of which were loaded and 120 empty, including locomotives, freight, passengers, and passenger and freight cars, the total weight passing over an average mile of line daily was 14,100 tons. In a word, the average track had to bear a daily aggregate load through the course of a day of 28,800,000 pounds. Now this is the weight borne during the course of twenty-four hours by the average mile of track. But traffic, both freight and passenger, is much heavier on some lines than on others. No doubt there are roads over which the weight is ress is double, maybe triple, what it is on the average mile. Assuming however that it is but double on roads of exceptionally heavy traffic, the load the trackage of such a road would have to bear during the course of a day would be almost 60,000,000 pounds.

Is it any wonder that, under such conditions, rails show wear, ties deteriorate and ballast must be renewed occasionally in spots? Is it not rather a wonder that tracks stand up as they do?

Suns in Collision.

We made a short reference, a day or two ago in these columns to the "split" star, Nova Pictoris, which was discovered in 1925.

It seems that the expression, "split," was a misnomer, for the reason that it never split. Instead of one star splitting, it develops that two stars came together, and that the brilliancy which led to the discovery of what was assumed to be a new star was caused by the impact.

Astronomers in South Africa, who nightly have been watching what yet goes by the name of Nova Pictoris, have demonstrated beyond question that they have been observing what has hitherto been unknown in all history—the collision of two stars.

A cable from Capetown quotes Dr. Spencer Jones, one of the astronomers who has been watching the celestial phenomenon, as saying that it is a case of the millionth chance coming to pass. He compares the chance of such a happening no greater than the possibility of two of half a dozen tennis balls floating around in a hollow globe of the size of the earth coming together. Sounds, he says, ever expected such a thing to occur, and the rarity of the happening gives it great significance. We now realize, he goes on to say, that it was the collision which caused the outburst which three years ago attracted the attention of the astronomers of the southern hemisphere.

"It is the first direct evidence," says this scientist, "of a collision between two stars within historical times. It is speculation to say this is the birth of a new world, but we have in this instance the same phenomenon which gave rise to life within our own.

"No astronomer ever entertained hopes of seeing such a rare event. We shall never be able to tell what happens, because we are too far away. The two stars may form themselves into a physical system, revolving around each other, or they may separate, each going its own way.

The separation which now shows between the two stars is a fifth of a second of an arc, which means a separation of a fifteenth of a second annually, which is just about the normal average of the angular motion of stars. But while this movement is recognized, the distance is too great to determine whether or not the two stars have started a swinging movement which may lead to the chaining of them by the same bands by which many so-called double stars are caused to revolve about each other, or are going along on the same general courses they were following when the impact occurred. In a word, the astronomers are able to see the motion of the two stars sideways, but they can not see the motion of either toward us or away.

However, if no more is developed than is now known and surmised, the phenomenon has demonstrated the correctness of a theory long held by our searchers of the skies. They now know that what they thought is no longer a theory, but a fact.

But of the many slaps administered to the Windy City as the result of her lawlessness, the "most unkindest cut of all" is the proffer of Williamson county "to contribute to a fund to help clean up Chicago, the dirty blot on the state of Illinois."

Ohio farmers down in Washington are championing another $10,000,000 corn-borer appropriation, claiming that the 200 Buckeye farmers who were down there a week or two ago fighting an appropriation were playing politics. If true, it's the first political play of which we ever heard to keep good money out of the pockets of the patriots.

Three West Virginia mining companies, with lands and equipment aggregating $900,000, have gone into bankruptcy, which rather goes to confirm the view that coal mining is a losing proposition for the operators as well as the miners.

The New York state boxing commission has notified Tunney that he must name an opponent for a bout by next Tuesday or he will be barred from fighting in the Empire state, which demands that a champion must defend his title at least once every six months. What's the idea? Are those New Yorkers trying to work poor Tunney to death?

Thelma Parr, a moving picture beauty, is reported to have been badly cut about the face, neck and arms when she was hurled through the windshield of her automobile in a collision out in Hollywood. If Thelma often appears in the costume in which she was photographed in the picture run in connection with the story of her accident, there is little occasion for her to worry over the possibility that minor cuts about the face, neck and arms are going to attract attention.

THE UNMASKING.

Tattooing bared, he swaggered 'round the deck,
Black forearms bulging from his sleeves uprolled.
Ogled fair passengers he sought to hold,
The sinews knotting on his sunburned neck;
With salty oaths hurled out on sea or land
He chivied lesser mortals of the crew
Who, cringing, eyed his bulk whose weight they knew,
And, muttering, limped or heed as snarled command
Then fell a night with screaming wind, black peaks
That frothed and, bursting, shattered mast and spar;
A wallowing wreck was rolled, while every tar
Strove to launch lifeboats, stilled pale women's shrieks,
Heroes—save one, who gibbered, wrestled, rushed,
Fewer on those scant shells the captain crushed . . .

"TAKE BACK YOUR GOLD—UNLESS IT'S GUARANTEED."

The Source of Headache.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

It is only a little while since I wrote something about headache. But if it will help a lot of folks to get rid of this annoying symptom, it is well worth while to refer to it again.

I never attempted this sort of a classification, but I wonder if it is not worth making. Let us divide headaches in three classes.

First, there are headaches which are the result of remote disease.

Second, there are headaches which may be called "reflex" headaches.

Third, there are headaches which come from actual disease of the brain.

Having made this division, I will suggest another:

First, the headache may be due to organic disease.

Second, it may be a symptom of some functional disturbance.

Nature was very far-seeing when the brain was planned. It is made of firm tissue, through which run many blood vessels. Through these the cells of the brain are constantly bathed with rich blood.

The brain is wrapped in a delicate covering, called the Pia Mater. This is a thin membrane, supplied with blood vessels.

Over this is another wrapping, a thicker, denser covering, the Dura Mater. Its purpose is to guard the brain substance from injury and the admission of germs or other agents of disease.

But Nature wasn't satisfied. Her next step was to incase this well packed and protected brain in the thick bones of the skull. Over them she stretched the scalp, and gave the brain further protection by the covering of hair.

You can see that almost the only way trouble can reach the brain is through the blood. Without hammer or bullet there can be no successful assault from without.

If the blood can be kept pure and the circulation be left undisturbed, there is little chance of reaching the brain. That is your job. You must so order your living that blood fluid and circulation are not disturbed.

How can the blood be changed in quality or charged with materials that are harmful?

Any disease, no matter where it is located in the body, where pus is formed, is capable of disturbing the nerve cells and tissues of the brain.

This is the general rule. You can apply it as well as I can: Abscessed teeth, pussy gums, infected tonsils, diseased nasal sinuses, ulcer of the stomach, infection of the kidneys, bladder or sexual organs, a running ear, an infected appendix—pus formation and absorption anywhere.

Any one of these troubles may have headache as a symptom. But it comes too as an accompaniment of eye strain from the need of glasses. Reading or sewing, or any other use of the eyes for too long a time may end in a headache.

Women are likely to have it during the menstrual period. Sexual excesses will produce it. Anemia from any cause is a factor.

It is a common thing after eating too much food, or as a result of indigestion and intestinal fermentation. The "toxic" effects of food poisons may be no worse than severe headache.

Lastly, actual disease of the brain or its coverings may have intense headache as one of its effects. Fortunately, these cases are rare.

I have said enough to set your mind at work on your problem. If you have headache, knowing these possible causes, what is the reason for yours?

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

M. J. E. Q—I am fourteen years old, five feet one inch tall. What should I weigh?

2—Will I grow taller?

3—How can I reduce?

A—You should weigh about 109 pounds.

2—Possibly, as you have five years more in which to grow.

3—Eat sparingly of starches, sugars and fats. Exercise daily in the open air; these should all help you.

H. R. G. Q—What harm does smoking do?

2—What should a boy of eighteen, five feet 6½ inches tall weigh?

3—How can I add to my weight and what will develop me?

A—If done to excess it upsets the nervous system, thus reacting on the system in general.

2—He should weigh about 135 pounds.

3—Build up your general health and you will notice general results. A good gymnasium for regular, systematic exercise. For particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Editorial Opinion.

TRANSATLANTIC MAIL BY AIR.

It is not at all unlikely that transatlantic airmail service will be instituted between America and Europe before the United States has suitable dirigibles to do the carrying. If that is the case, and if it is also true that airships will be flying "from New York to London in less than forty hours in a very short time," as was predicted by Second Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover before a subcommittee of the house committee on post offices and post roads, the American government should be extremely cautious in long-term engagements for mail transportation by foreign dirigibles, it being made to appear that both British and German craft will be ready for service long before any suitable American dirigibles can be produced. Yet it will be of commercial importance for the United States to take advantage of a forty-hour schedule if and as soon as it is available, whether the dirigibles are American, British or German.

At the same hearing, when consideration was being given a bill authorizing the postmaster general to enter into contracts with foreign countries for transportation of mail by airship, for a period of not more than ten years, it was stated by the aeronautic manager of an American rubber company that both England and Germany will have dirigibles completed by autumn, whereas the first of the two ships being planned by the United States can not be completed for thirty months after construction is started. This man, however, believes the two German ships will be placed in service between Spain and Argentina and the British craft between England and its continental possessions.

There can be little doubt in view of comparable performances up to this time that transatlantic mails will be carried regularly and dependably by dirigible before they will be carried by aeroplane. As was stated at the hearing, airships have attempted to cross the Atlantic three times and have accomplished the feat three times. So, with mail dirigibles being constructed in at least two foreign countries and being studied in America, there can be little question that the day is not far distant when a fast and regular mail service will connect the Western world with Europe. Whenever that time comes, the United States must be in position to have its mail handled. But no contract should be entered that will embarrass or discourage the development of an American-owned line of dirigibles.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WORRYING THE BOOTLEGGER.

Bootleggers all over the country sit up and take notice since United States Attorney Bernsteen of the Northern Ohio district follows convictions with civil suits for collection of the federal liquor dealers' tax with added penalties for failure to file proper returns.

If the bootlegger pays the liquor tax voluntarily, he convicts himself of having engaged in illicit trade for which he may be punished. If he fails to pay the liquor tax and is convicted, there is in the fact of such conviction the evidence that the tax is due, with penalty.

As bootlegging thus becomes a more hazardous occupation, the price of bootleg liquor will follow the upward trend of the stock market. But then what will it profit a bootlegger if he goes to jail after criminal conviction and is deprived of his gains by process of civil suit?—Toledo Blade.

The Boy Scouts.

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

The Boy Scouts of America are going to hold their eighteenth annual meeting and convention at San Francisco this spring. It is their first visit as an organization to the Pacific slope. They will find it golden in more senses than that which made the eyes of the grandfathers of some of them sparkle in the days of "Forty-Nine."

The Boy Scouts are representative of the American idea of America. They could give a good answer, if any were needed, to the "debunkers" of our early history, who, rightly or wrongly, are accused of decrying patriotism. The training of the Boy Scout on his manners and on his conduct, in many ways, like that of the soldier. This same training also resembles that of the engineer and the geodetic surveyor—a training which nothing in human life is more romantic or more manfully practical. If Jules Verne were writing his romances of earth and sea and moon today he would surely find good material for heroes to his liking in this organization.

The Boy Scout is systematically taught not only love of nature, but some comprehension of her works and laws. Such teaching is a hundred-fold more important now than ever before, because a hundred times more people now see something of the country, thanks to the universality of the space-devouring auto.

Boy Scout life is, of necessity, outdoor life. He lives in close companionship with woods, and fields, and rivers and lakes, and hills and mountains. One of the most important books in his library should be Fremont's "Narrative" of explorations in the Rocky mountains and the Far West, away back in the forties of the last century, and another should be the narrative of the still earlier Lewis and Clark expedition across the continent; and a third, Washington Irving's fascinating story of "Astoria."

The Boy Scouts have to learn to do what all explorers and pathfinders are under necessity of doing, viz: To look out for themselves, to know their whereabouts, and to know how to meet and overcome all sorts of physical difficulties and obstacles. What can better become a man than such acquirements? How pitiful appear the accomplishments that mere fashionable society can offer in their stead! But this, of course, does not mean that the Boy Scout does not, or should not receive the training belonging to good manners. So far from that, he is taught, as West Pointers and Annapolis men are, to be a gentleman in conduct and thought, and to have a high sense of honor. He is taught to revere God.

Personally, one of the most pleasing features that I find in the instruction given to the Boy Scout is the acquaintance that is afforded him with the starry heavens. He is not long in learning to find his way through an unknown region by consulting the wonderful clock and map displayed over his head. Such words as longitude and latitude quickly come to have a live meaning for him, although to many graduates of schools they remain mere words all their lives. Nature can never be clearly understood from descriptions in books, nor from experiments in laboratories, either. She must be met face to face—thus only can her fascination be felt and her deepest meanings be comprehended.

Boy Scout life would be worth while if for no other reason than that it helps to counteract the increasing tendency of city life to shut people away, body and mind, from country sights, sounds and influences. The simple fact that it is all but impossible to see the universe from city streets and squares is condemnatory. The more compact a city and the more brilliant its nightly illumination, the more narrowly its inhabitants are confined to purely earthly things. A worse than "Heaviside layer" shuts them in with an impenetrable canopy of localism, through which no thought can pass outward and no inspiration can enter from the supernal spaces beyond.—Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

There are indications the old-time high class boarding-house may return to fresh popularity. Indeed, become a vogue. There are three now occupying fine old homes in the east Fifties—abandoned mansions of millionaires. They are outfitted in magnificent style and the clientele is restricted to those who can give only the highest social and financial references. The meals are home-cooked and served in the elegant courses manner of households in the neighborhoods. Lodgers are expected to come to the evening meal in dinner clothes and afterward there are piano or violin concerts with coffee in the drawing room. Prices for couples range from $150 to $300 a week.

Newspapers have been called the school-books of the adult. The best newspapers are school-books, and good ones, if readers will take pains to read the best things in them. Newspapers give coverage on the day's events. Some of the matter is, of course, trivial. Some is merely entertaining. There is, however, in every sound, well-edited paper much reading matter which is instructive and important. Readers too often overlook all that is worth while and give their brief attention only to that which is trivial or merely entertaining.

Pavloff, smart Russian scientist, has given years of study and experiment to prove that thinking, in human beings or lower animals, is merely a mechanical process. A monkey is taught to associate food with a red disk. When the red disk is shown he gets off his perch to be fed. When a blue disk is shown, he pays no attention. A child lies under a chute, from which candy is dropped into his mouth every time a bulb on his wrist is inflated. After a few trials the scientist finds the child opens its mouth whenever the bulb is inflated, whether there is any candy or not.

Well, that's interesting. So are many other experiments. There is something of mechanical process in thought. But there is something else which the scientist has not yet explained. Why do some men direct their thoughts to certain evil and dangerous channels, while others direct their thoughts toward good things? After all, we have the right and the capacity to think, whatever the process.

It is hopeful and interesting to note the work constantly going on to find out the causes of things. Nothing happens by chance. There are no accidents in the world. Every action has a direct and logical cause. It is an orderly universe. The causes are the things we really want to know about.

What do you know about the causes of earthquakes?

"A downward movement of an inch of mercury in the thermometer," says Major Bowie, of the coast survey, "means an additional atmospheric pressure that is equal to a foot of water on the earth's surface. On an area twenty by 100 miles that would be a weight of a billion and a half tons. This pressure, or the relieving of pressure as the barometer rises, may be the 'trigger finger' that sets off the earthquake, though, of course, there are many other factors contributing to the tremor."

IDLE HOUSE AT PEN IS PATHETIC SCENE

Some 800 Convicts Confined in Hall 10 Hours Per Day, Seven Days Per Week

[illegible] State Penitentiary, Columbus, March 30.—The "idle house" here is probably the most impressive, pathetic place within the grayish old walls of the 94-year-old prison.

Few of the hundred of visitors who are escorted through the penitentiary ever see, or even hear of, the "idle house."

The house is just what the name implies—a place where men who do nothing are kept, a place where some 800 convicts, negroes and whites are confined for 10 hours a day, and seven days a week.

Picture a convention hall, 100 by 40 feet, with 800 persons crowded into it, and you have a more or less accurate description of the idle house.

Reading of books, magazines and newspapers affords the only amusement to the convicts in this hall. Nearly every type of magazine in circulation can be found. Western stories and detective stories form the greater majority.

Sit Day Through

Those quartered in are not allowed to wander about. They are forbidden to smoke, play cards, games, or to indulge in any other form of physical or mental recreation. They are allowed to have chewing tobacco, and the reading matter that is endlessly circulating keeps some of the men busy.

Many are illiterate, and these unfortunates must sit in the hall with nothing to do but pass the time away.

In the idle house one sees men literally packed into a cramped hall. The convicts are seated on straight-backed benches of a dull green color, that forms a somber and tragic blend with the gray suits worn by the prisoners. The benches are so close together that the men have hardly room to stretch.

Eight guards are left in charge of the men. Heavily barred windows help form a guard over the imprisoned. Windows flank the hall on three sides, long narrow windows that present only desolate views of the penitentiary walls.

Seen as "Necessary Evil"

The idle house was established more than a decade ago when Ohio statutes outlawed convict labor. As the institution began to fill up officials were forced to find a place to keep the men—and the idle house resulted. More than 5,000 men are employed within the here to do everything for themselves, be her do everything for themselves, besides manufacturing products for other state institutions.

Officials endeavor as much as possible to keep all of the inmates occupied at labor. Some companies housed in the hall are often shifted so as they may do their share of work, which after spending a week in the "idle house" would seem a pleasure. The "idle house" is looked upon as one of the "necessary evils' by the officials but it is the only logical thing to do with such overcrowded conditions, they declare.

Ritzy Rosey

Ritzy Rosey and Penelope are all prepared for a delightful weekend. The former wants to feel sure of her appearance "coming and going" so she has brought her new purse with the adjustable mirror which reassures her frequently. Penelope is "armed" with her new purse with a separate pocket for her folding camera.

HERRON INDICTED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

New Philadelphia, March 30—William D. Herron, 41, was yesterday afternoon indicted by the Tuscarawas County Grand Jury on two counts. The first being first degree murder and the second attempt to commit a statutory offense. The indictment follows the discovery of the body of Miss Viola May, 21, his sister-in-law in the Tuscarawas River here Monday. Herron is alleged to have confessed that he murdered Miss May after she resisted his advances. Three women were seated on the grand jury.

PROHIBITS POLYGAMY

Belgrade, March 30—The Albanian Parliament has amended the Albanian laws to prohibit polygamy, according to a dispatch from Durazzo today.

POLICE FIGHT OFF DOGS TO GET WOMAN'S BODY

Cleveland, March 30—Police were forced to fight off two dogs here before they could touch the body of Miss Lottie Havery, who lay dead from illness.

The faithful dogs, pets of Mrs. Havery, had scratched her face in an effort to rouse her, and were standing guard when officers arrived to remove the body to the County Morgue.

RECEIVED BY POPE

Rome, March 30—Ruth Draper, American actress, was received in audience by Pope Pius XI. The [illegible] greatly impressed by personality and oratory of the famous [illegible]. Recently she was received by Premier Mussolini.

National Health Authority

ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

DR. Copeland, U. S. Senator from New York State and Ex-Health Commissioner of the City of New York, is recognized as one of the world's foremost health authorities.

Dr. Copeland Says:

"Mineral waters of the right sort are preferable to many cathartic compounds. Their power to overcome the immediate effects of constipation is unquestioned. Their effects upon the bowel and its lining membranes are far less irritating. Many mineral waters possess qualities making them soothing and healing. Sugar-coated pills are pleasant to take, but this fact may add to their danger. They are no less habit-forming and drastic because they appeal to the taste. Mineral waters contain elements found in the blood, most of which are in higher percentages than the blood, are unattractive to it and pass through the system, flushing and cleansing the intestinal tract."

Over the years, Pluto Water, with its mineral content, has been the efficient enemy and corrective of constipation. Its action is gentle, natural and thorough, flushing the bowels and washing away impurities. It is non-griping and non-habit-forming, toning up the intestinal tract and restoring its normal functions.

Experts Find Installment Sales Sound

Staff of Economists Under Prof. Seligman, of Columbia, Report Results of 15 Months' Research

System Called Key To U. S. Prosperity

Study, Financed by General Motors, Outlined at Dinner to Business Men

From the Herald Tribune

Installment selling not only is a sound method of financing the distribution of merchandise but has proved itself one of the most potent agencies in shaping the new prosperity of the United States, an agency that has increased production, stabilized output, reduced production costs and increased purchasing power throughout the country.

This is the conclusion reached by Edwin R. A. Seligman, professor of ...ical economy at Columbia Uni... and laid before ... of the Insti...

CHAPTER 10

Bob was gone. Monica watched him climb wearily up into the cedar and was relieved to observe that once ensconced in its thick top branches her protege was effectually screened from anything save the most persistent investigation from the ground below.

She was singing a Methodist hymn when a shadow darkened her door at sunset. The sheriff was back again. He nodded—a wintry nod—and entered uninvited. "I'll search your house, Miss Dale," he announced.

"Search away. I've been expecting you for the past hour, Sheriff," the girl replied.

He looked around the living-room, then entered the kitchen and sat down on his hands and knees to search the long cupboard under the sink and drainboard. The sound of running feet came distinctly to Monica through the open window, and she rose and rose and looked out. Bob Mason was running across the yard toward the sheriff's horse; an instant later he was in the saddle and the horse was walking quietly away toward the Tantrum Meadows trail.

The sheriff came out of the kitchen and searched Monica's bedroom. When he was down on his knees looking under the bed the girl twisted and tore the telephone wires with a pair of pliers and was seated where the sheriff had left her.

"Clean but of hearin hers Miss Dale," he announced with a grim smile. "I'll have a look in your barn."

"I would if I were you," Monica replied sweetly. "You might find your horse there."

With a bound the sheriff was out of the house. With another bound he was in again. "By gad, my horse is gone!" he cried. "That cowboy must have been hiding outside all the time, and now he's swiped my horse and is making his getaway."

"Right the very first time. I saw him mount up and ride off down the trail toward Tantrum."

"Why didn't you warn me?" the outraged man almost yelled.

"You kill your own snakes. Bob Mason is a friend of mine. Why should I have a bullet kiss him in the back?"

The sheriff leaped for the telephone. Monica raised her untrained contralto and softly sang "Rose of Sharon" while the sheriff rattled and banged and cranked at the Forest Service phone.

"I'm afraid it's out of order, Sheriff," she announced presently.

"It it is, you've scuttled the damnest thing," he roared.

"Well, isn't that about what you'd expect of me? You've been searching my house without my permission, haven't you? Why shouldn't I live up to your expectations? Surely you do not think I'm a mental cripple?"

"I'll say I don't."

"Have a drink," Monica urged hospitably. "There's a demijohn in the corner. You're all hot and excited, and a drink will do you a great deal of good. Struck me this afternoon, Sheriff, that you were riding a pretty likely looking horse. Looked to me as if he might have a lot of hot blood in him."

"He has. He's three-quarter thoroughbred."

"Well, he'll need it all tonight, Sheriff. He has a rider in the saddle now—a rider who knows these hills as well as you know your pistol pocket. And here's another bone for you to gnaw on, Sheriff. At the next election your political enemies will laugh you out of office. From now on Bob Mason will be a hero for outwitting you. He's taken your horse and left you afoot. He's made a sorry-angled monkey out of you, Mr. Sheriff."

"I notice you rode a pretty fair horse yourself, Miss Dale," he retorted grimly. "I reckon I'll just naturally have to help myself in the name of the law."

"I wouldn't advise that course, Sheriff. It happens that tonight I am the law on Bogus. Also I have a certain affection for my little horse, and I don't figure on letting any fat sheriff ride him to death in the timber at night. By the way, am I mistaken or did I observe a rifle in a scabbard on your saddle this afternoon?"

"You did, girl, and it's still there, and the magazine's full up."

"You're the picture of bum luck, old boy. Sit down and rest your weary feet. Have a drink. Fellows like you who are so chary of kindly hospitality need to give my house a bad name. Don't be shy."

The sheriff poured himself four fingers. There was nothing else to do. I recently he begged wistfully.

"Miss Dale, you won't ever tell anybody about that ornery Bob Mason stealin' my horse and leavin' me afoot and helpless, will you? You're right, girl. They'd laugh me out of office next November."

The lustrous brown eyes were raised to him with a look of kindness and benevolence ineffable. "Poor old silly sheriff! Of course not. Why, that wouldn't be a bit sporty!"

Far down the trail a hoofbeat of a ride shots punctuated the twilight silence. Three minutes passed but there was no further shooting.

"I wonder if somebody got Bob Mason," the sheriff ventured.

"I wonder if somebody got your horse," said Monica Dale. "Wise men always shoot the horse under a mounted fugitive. It simplifies matters so."

"Perhaps Mason has shot the horses out from under some of my posse."

"Perhaps". Monica looked at her unbidden guest sorrowfully. "Poor man!" she sighed. "How singularly unfortunate you are today."

The sheriff blazed in fury. "Young woman, do you know what you can do?" And without waiting for Monica's reply he yelled, "You can go to Jericho!"

"Have another drink, brother. You're excited," she urged.

"Oh, go to hell!" the sheriff almost sobbed, and flounced out of the door into the gathering shadows on Bogus.

"It certainly does take some folks a long time to get to their objective," Monica mused. "Well—guess it's time to light the lights and close the chicken-house door."

Sore Throat Prudence

Your medicine shelf is not well stocked without a bottle of Tonsiline, for you don't know what moment it may be needed to relieve a sudden case of Sore Throat. Relieving Sore Throat is Tonsiline's special mission. It is made for that—advertised for that—sold for that one purpose. You will need Tonsiline one of these days, or some night when the drug store is closed—better keep a bottle handy at home.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventure

BY JUDD M. LEWIS

I AM always glad when Friday comes, but gladder when it has went. Me and Jubilee both.

Today was another clear day, and Youniss said she wouldn't wonder if maybe we might find some lilies or violets if we were to go out in the woods looking for them, and I said that would be a good idee. Then Feeble butted in and said her and Maggie would be glad to go with Youniss and me if we wanted to go. Youniss told her that was very sweet of her but she didn't think there would be enough violets to go around. Feeble grinned at her and said that was the first time she ever heard Thomas Aristides called a violet. Youniss blushed and told her I wasn't so much a violet as I was sour grapes, and Feeble said, "Is that so?" By that time we were in sight of the school, and I said to Feeble and Maggie that if we were to go Sunday morning to get some lilies and violets for Sunday school we would have to get up early. I asted them if they could be up at half past four and ready to come out when they heard someone whistle. They both looked pleased and said they could, and Feeble said she would bring some weenies and we could toast some hot dogs for breakfast. They went around to their side of the school and Youniss looked at me like I was a two headed calf or something. I asted her if she had noticed that Sunday was April Food day, and then she began to smile and whenever I looked at her in school she had the grins. I would like to know why she called me sour grapes.

When I got home the Lost Bag of Tripe's mother had came over to spend the day and brang his kid brother, and she had brang his scooter along which is just like Annabelle Lee's. He ran it against my ant's heels whilst she was standing on the slippery part of the floor and she had to throw herself sideways to keep from falling on him. Then Annabelle Lee and the Lost Bag of Tripe's kid brother chased each other all over the house and when they got mad at each other they couldn't reach each other because of the rubber bumpers in front so they kept butting against each other like two little roosters. I thought I would laugh my head off. Then my mother opened the kitchen door and laid a rolled rug acrosst to keep them in, and he rolled his scooter up to it and was looking out when Annabelle Lee came all the way acrosst the kitchen and bumped him over the rug and down the steps. He got quite a hard bump on his face, and his mother got mad and took him home. My mother said she hoped she would get madder and keep him home.

I gave Annabile Lee a lump of sugar. My father was pleased about it, and my grandfather was pleased about my ant.

Love's Embers

A Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

THE PRINCESS INTERRUPTS

"YOU mustn't use that word 'bother' in connection with me," I told Princess Olina of Transvania reproachfully. "Remember, I am ready and anxious to serve you in any way."

I dared make no more pointed comment upon her allusion to the mysterious person who had paid her "a fortune" for delivering a message, even though I was sure that in it lay the whole explanation of the sinister lurking menace which she so feared. But she volunteered no further explanation of her words, and I conjectured that only the most imminent danger would wrest that secret from her. A moment later I keenly regretted speaking at all, for instead of continuing the story of her escape from the royal Transvanian party while its members were in the United States, she asked an abrupt question abruptly.

"How is Anna?" Miss Lynch had ... Would she ever cease her efforts to ... This was the query which ... out in my mind even as I told her what the nurse had said. Perhaps ... was only my fancy, but it seemed to me that she had brought the name back ... so that part of her ... where a princess reigned.

With an ... the Masked Ball ... her?

"She ... for me ... Anna," she said as she went ... toward the door. "Don't you see? She is calling 'Lina.' That was always her name for me always. Of course she never would do it if she were conscious, and Heaven is protecting me ... as he thinks, by saying there is no 'Lina.'

I was close behind her and before she had reached the door of her old nurse's room, I felt a compelling hand upon her arm.

"Remember the nurse and the Towers," I whispered. "You must not arouse their suspicions."

She stopped and turned a startled face to me.

"Thank you!" she whispered back. "I'll be careful. But come with me, and if you think I'm saying the wrong thing, touch my arm."

I followed her into the room where the sick woman in delirium was still moaning "Lina." The man who had posed as Eleanor Lynch's uncle looked up from the bed and I saw him make a quick impulsive gesture as of warning. But the girl went swiftly over to him and put her hand on his shoulder.

"Oh, Uncle Henry!" she said softly, but slightly stressing the name. "Mrs. Graham tells me that Aunt Anna is calling 'Lina.' I am sure she means me. Have you forgotten that when I was a little thing and couldn't twist my tongue to Eleanor, I used to call myself 'Lina' and that Aunt Anna used to call me that sometimes?"

She was leaning over him gazing deeply into his eyes and I knew that she was trying to convey a message to his usually active brain, dazed just now by grief. For a long second he returned her gaze, then the tense muscles of his face relaxed into relief.

"Ah, I remember now," he said, and then the nurse interposed.

"I only can have one person in the room," she said firmly. "And you can do no good by remaining," she added, addressing the young chatelaine of The Larches. "Your aunt will not come out of this delirium for some time, and I do not wish her disturbed. I am glad to know that you are the 'Lina' she's been calling. Please do not leave the place until she regains consciousness, so that I may call you at once if she asks for you then."

Princess Olina had lifted her head with something very near arrogance as the nurse began her strictures, but her reply to the little speech was submissively courteous.

"Of course I shall remain within call," she said. "Will you come back to my room with me, Mrs. Graham?" and as I nodded my acquiescence and followed her down the corridor, I wondered fiercely if she would resume the fascinating tale of her adventures in escaping from a distasteful royal marriage.

The Chatter Box

Still a little snap of left-over winter in the air today—enough to keep you thinking of Spring Coats—and Hats. By the way, have you noticed those new felts—cut up over the eyebrow and draped with a veil? They're so smart—and especially good this season.

After the show last night we stopped at Turoff's for a bite to eat. I'd been hearing about their sandwiches. But I hadn't heard half enough. Try a Bar-le-Duc some evening—Philadelphia cream cheese and raspberry jam on toast. Good?—Ummm—

If you're going any place in the car before long you'll appreciate this tip—cushions—I found them at Lennon's—in gay colors to match the new spring costumes—and what a help they are to a tired back after the first fifty miles. And inexpensive, too. While I was there I saw a gate leg table I just simply must have. It's included in the special sale Saturday, but anything in the store can be reserved until then if you like.

It's worth a trip any day to just look at Blake's greenhouses. Run out some day soon—while the Easter display is still in full bloom. There's a solid wall of sweet peas that must be all of twelve feet high—and great beds of Easter lilies. The display at the store in town is good, too, but you mustn't miss the greenhouse if you like flowers.

Down at Ackerman's I heard Paul Whiteman playing "Ramona"—that's a new popular number that deserves to be popular—with a deep resonant bass obligato that is so different. They were playing "Melancholy Baby" and "Mary Ann," too—Ask to hear them on the new Victrola-Radiola that changes its own records—and everything—when you're downtown again.

New shoes are just absolutely essential with the Easter wardrobe—and today I saw the smartest new ones in town. There was a pair in patent leather—rose blush—and some in beige kid. They're the Arch Preserver, too—you'll be surprised how comfortable they are—and I found them at Smart and Waddell's on Center Street.

Those gorgeous silk scarfs that have been so good all winter are going to be seen better this spring. Triangular scarfs of printed chiffon in colors to match the hat—or maybe the lining of the new coat, are the smartest things right now. I found the best assortment at Uhler-Phillips. They seem to have everything in that store—and very reasonably priced, too. Stop and see them while you're selecting your spring costume.

When you stop to get a permanent wave it isn't just a mater of climbing into the chair and having somebody turn on the current, it seems. Unless your hair is in good condition first the wave won't be as permanent as you might desire. One of the most important parts of the whole process is getting your hair in just the right condition to bring the best results. That's at the Harding Hotel Beauty Shop—and it's done with the least fuss and bother of any place I've ever tried.

Have you ever seen children being photographed and acting as if they liked it? Well, I did, today. The man behind the machine was doing the job so nicely, and the background against which they were seen looked so natural, they really seemed to enjoy it. And of course that showed in the finished picture—they do such things so well at the Master Studio.

Ho, hum—it certainly was a relief to settle down in a comfortable chair with a bit of salad and a delicious sandwich after visiting all the shops. It only takes a minute to drive out to the Oakland Drug Store grill—but it takes more than a minute to decide to leave it—at least it did me. Their luncheons are good, too, and there's always plenty of parking space—an item not to be overlooked these days.

Well, there's a lot more I might tell you about this week—but here's the end of the column drawing nigh—it's lots of fun just browsing around in all the stores—especially now when they all have so many fancy new things in stock. I'll tell you more about them next Tuesday.

See you later.

Two Hundred Mt. Gilead Sportsmen Attend League Banquet

TEACHERS WILL HOLD MEETING

Supt. H. O. Hanna Will Give Farewell Address at Hardin County Session

Kenton, March 30—Program for the fourth bi-monthly meeting of the Hardin County Teachers' Association to be held in the Courthouse Auditorium here Saturday, March 31, has been announced by H. O. Hanna, county superintendent of schools.

W. W. Durbin, Kenton manufacturer and president of the International Brotherhood of Magicians and Frank L. Lee, superintendent of the Alger schools, will be the principal speakers.

Farewell address to the teachers will be delivered by Superintendent Hanna who leaves Aug. 1 to become head of the Morrow County schools.

Music for the morning and afternoon sessions will be furnished by the Forest high school and the Gypsy Serenaders of Mt. Victory.

An innovation at this meeting will be an afternoon theater party when two leading movie films are to be screened. They will include a two reel comedy and the show, "The Dress Parade."

Invocation is to be pronounced by Rev. R. A. Hoffman, county attendance officer. The morning session opens at 10 o'clock while the afternoon meeting convenes at 1:30 o'clock.

The morning program includes the addresses of Mr. Loy and Mr. Durbin and music by the Forest band. In the afternoon Superintendent Hanna speaks and music is to be furnished by the Mt. Victory artists. The movies will also be shown.

Kenton Pupils Instructed In Music By Ether Waves

KENTON, March 30—A new system for the study of music is inaugurated in educational circles here.

It is class room instruction by radio.

Assembling in the high school auditorium here, the entire school body is given an hour's instruction in music education and appreciation, the lesson coming over the radio via the National Broadcasting Co. chain of stations.

The music for the first lesson was provided by the Walter Damrosch Symphony Orchestra of New York City. History of each selection was presented and how and why the composer came to write the selection related.

IS DINNER HOSTESS

Forest, March 30—Mrs. W. L. Stephens, who before her recent marriage was Miss Charlotte Kear, a teacher in the Forest Public Schools, entertained the local grade teachers Thursday evening with dinner at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Kear near Forest. Her guests were Miss Martha Myers, Miss Irene Gillet, Miss Ethel Yeatzel, Miss Wealtha Worting, Miss Lavonne Garmon, Mrs. Ruby Unger and Miss Reva Dame.

LEITZY IS GRANTED STAY OF EXECUTION

Man Convicted in Bucyrus Gets Action on Case in Court of Appeals

Bucyrus, March 30—William Leitzy, who was convicted by a jury and sentenced by Judge Walter Wright over a year ago for responsibility in the death of Carl Gunther at Crestline in February, 1927, when Gunther was struck by an automobile driven by Leitzy, was granted an indefinite stay of execution yesterday by the Court of Appeals at Lima.

Oral argument will be heard today in support of a petition in error filed by attorneys for Leitzy yesterday. Today's action will be the beginning of another effort to keep Leitzy from serving his sentence in the penitentiary.

A charge of manslaughter is still pending in the local Common Pleas Court against Helfrich, who was accompanying Leitzy.

The Montague girl, who was with the men, is now serving a sentence in the Delaware reformatory for girls.

PUPILS ENTERTAIN

Program Is Feature of Chapel Hour in Galion Schools

Galion, March 30—A student program featured the regular chapel hour at Galion high school yesterday morning and a group of interesting and entertaining numbers were presented entirely by school talent. Theodore Schaefer played two piano numbers and Vera Hannewald, alto soloist, accompanied by Marjorie Bosler sang a selection which was enthusiastically received. A girls' quartet, including Misses Vera Hannewald and Velma Resch, altos, and Martha Auld and Florence Mosier, soprano, gave several numbers. Two songs were given by Herman Hoard, "Diane," and "Gypsy Love Song." Theodore Schaefer at the organ and the violin obligato, by Burnell Tennant, afforded an effective accompaniment. A feature of the entertainment was the short program of harmonica numbers by Al Graham. R. R. Ehrhart, supervisor of the music department, sang "The Road to Mandalay" closed the session. Student programs will continue as weekly events during the remainder of the school term.

640-Acre Tract of Marsh Considered Worthless Now Yields $14,000 Rental

Kenton, March 30—Once covered with water and considered worthless, a 640-acre tract of land in the rich muck lands of the Scioto marsh, one mile west of here, is now yielding its holders an annual rental of approximately $14,000.

The land was originally granted the Alger-McGuffey school district by the state of Ohio back in 1903, the date of its inception as a governmental unit.

It was similar to many other tracts given by the state, but all except three or four in Ohio, have long since disposed of the land.

The Alger-McGuffey district would have done likewise had not its grant been covered with water and log for many years.

It was not until the Scioto marsh project was developed through extensive drainage that its real worth came to light. The $14,000 yearly rental is turned over to the two school districts for use in the operation of their institutions of learning.

BUSINESS MEN QUIZ TAX COMMISSIONER

Columbus Judge Addresses Upper Sandusky Club at Banquet

Upper Sandusky, March 30—Taxes will get higher instead of lower in Ohio, declared Judge John R. Cassidy, Columbus, tax commissioner of Ohio, in reply to a question as to future taxation asked by members of the Business Men's Club before whom he appeared at last night's dinner. "The reason for this is the continually increasing demand for more conveniences of every kind and the dissatisfaction of the people if any of these are removed—a sorry situation but cannot be avoided," continued Judge Cassidy. He named the gasoline tax as the most efficiently administered tax in the state.

Anthony J. Kraus, formerly of this city and now in the tax commission department at Columbus was present and spoke briefly. Dinner was served to twenty-five guests aside from the speakers including, Judge Earl B. Carter, Richard Palmer, L. McNewcomer, George Rilling, John Armstrong and Charles E. Frey.

The club voted at last night's meeting to co-operate with the Wyandot County Automobile Club towards the success of the latter's annual banquet, which is set for April 19.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED BY ICE-COVERED RAILS

Weather Ties Up Trains on Lines Leading into Bucyrus

Bucyrus, March 30—Train movement through Bucyrus was at a standstill last night due to many lines of the Pennsylvania and New York Central being covered with ice.

The New York Central lines reported five miles of poles down between Sycamore and Toledo. A work train from Bucyrus left here at 1:30 o'clock this morning with section men to repair the damages.

The Pennsylvania had no communication between here and Ft. Wayne.

GIVE OPERETTA

Radnor Grade Pupils Take Part in P. T. A. Prigram

Radnor, March 30—The members of the P. T. A. Society held their March meeting at the school house, Monday night, with a large attendance. The meeting opened with a song "Smiles" by the audience after which Rev. J. George Peters led in prayer. The First and Second Grades entertained with an operetta assist. Evelyn Thomas as pianist. Miss Mary Harsh gave an interesting talk about her mission work in New York and a solo was sung by B. V. Patterson. A recitation by Betty Gast was followed by talks by Miss Mary Champe and Stanley Humphries. After the benediction by Reverend Peters refreshments were served in the basement.

BUCYRUS THEATER MAN SUED FOR $500 BY WOMAN

Bucyrus, March 30—In a suit against Malcolm Foster, assistant manager of the Bucyrus Theater Co., Florence Shupe, Columbus, started action to collect $500 on two notes alleged to have been due in 1926 yesterday. She claims that she loaned Foster the money when he became engaged to marry her in Columbus and she seeks a full judgment for the amount.

MARRIAGE AT MONROE IN DECEMBER ANNOUNCED

Bucyrus, March 30—The marriage of Miss Anna Jane Stuckert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Stuckert, Bucyrus, and Mr. Willard J. Gaham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham, Galion, which took place December 10, 1927, at Monroe, Mich., was announced yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham will make their home in Mansfield where Mr. Graham is employed as an electric welder.

BUCKEYE MILLING CO. INCORPORATED AT $12,000

Mt. Gilead, March 30—The Buckeye Milling Co. here has been incorporated at Columbus for $12,000 with the following owners J. A. Hayes, Merle Ramey, J. O. Leedy, and Earnest Claypool. April 1 has been designated as the date for taking over the new organization.

C. C. Cline, who has operated and owned the mill for the past 15 years, is retiring on account of ill health. He came here from W. Va.

Bucyrus Engineer Steps Down From Cab After 45 Years' Continuous Service

William H. Smith's Engine Gaily Decorated as 500 Friends Meet Him at End of His Run; Similar Celebration Today for Patrick Kane

Bucyrus, March 30—Probably one of the most stirring events of the Ohio Division of the New York Central Railroad was enacted in Bucyrus, O., at 3:30 p. m. yesterday when William H. "Pap" Smith, of Bucyrus, arrived from his last trip from Thursion after 45 years of continuous railroad service.

In spite of the downpour of rain about 500 persons witnessed the arrival of engine 2981 of which he was engineer.

The smoke box, draw bar, side rods, main rods, cylinder and valve heads as well as all the valves in the cab were painted with aluminum paint. The hand rails were wrapped with bunting and on each side of the running board was a large sign, reading, "1883 'Pap' Smith 1928."

On the front of the engine was a large sign, "William H. 'Pap' Smith. Farewell Trip. 45 Years of Service, 1883—1928. With two Americans flags on the pilot beam and an American flag flying in each marker bracket, the beautifully decorated engine rolled up the main track about 100 feet at Woodlawn Crossing and stopped. The 'grand old man' of the Ohio Division, Mr. Smith, stepped down to the ground after completing his last run and was first greeted by his wife and the 500 who included shop and office employes who were dismissed for the occasion, friends and photographers. Mr. Smith received congratulations from O. P. Skeen, division master mechanic, and T. S. Powers, road foreman of engines, who presented him with a miniature tools of an engineer, a tallow pot, a torch and hand oiler. He was also presented with two bouquets of flowers from the N. Y. C. employes and a huge basket of flowers was placed directly in front of the engine, the gift of an old friend F. J. Norton, who made his first trip on the road firing for 'Pap.'

Mr. Smith started work for the N. Y. C. at Bucyrus in 1883. He has held the unusual record of never having had an accident and never reporting a fireman.

Mr. Smith reached the retirement age of 70 years on March 14, 1928.

This afternoon a similar celebration will be held at 4:20 o'clock for Patrick "Pat" Kane, Bucyrus, passenger conductor who entered service March 2, 1881. He is now 70 years old and will arrive from his last trip from Toledo.

Tonight a banquet will be held at the high school dining hall in their honor and it is expected 400 will attend, including officials from New York and Columbus friends, brother railroaders and relatives.

NAME KENTON YOUTH AS SOCIETY MEMBER

Horace L. Latimer Chosen as Result of His Grades During Fall Season

Marion Star Bureau
Ohio State University

Columbus, March 30—Horace L. Latimer of Kenton has been named a member of the newly organized freshmen honors society at Ohio State University as a result of making a high average in his courses at the university during the fall term of school, last year.

Using a four point average as a basis for a perfect grade, the 58 students recently admitted to the honor society were made eligible by scoring an average of at least 3.5 points during the first quarter term of school.

The honors society of the freshmen class was instituted on the Ohio State campus this year by the Student Senate. The plan was taken from a similar organization at the University of Illinois. The present members of the society will elect the new members of the society next year.

Latimer is a representative of the College of Education in the organization.

WILL GIVE CANTATA

School Glee Clubs To Present "A Day in the Woods"

Galion, March 30—Listed among the interesting activities planned for the spring season is a cantata which will be given by the Glee Clubs of the Sixth and Seventh grades of the local schools, "A Day in the Woods" by Charles H. Gabriel, will be the offering and intensive practice sessions have already begun, for the youthful participants. Mrs. Gordon Meuser grade school music supervisor is directing the cantata and Miss Almeda Craun is assisting as pianist.

Martha Auld, Vera Hannewald and Velma Resch, vocal students of the high school will have special parts in the production which tells a delightful children's story of a holiday in the woods. Solo parts are taken by members of the group supported by a chorus of 50 voices.

CHIROPRACTOR TO GET COURT HEARING TODAY

Bucyrus, March 30—Martin R. Krohmer, local chiropractor, was to appear before Judge Sheetz this morning for trial on a charge of practicing one branch of the profession of medicine and surgery without a license from the state medical board of examiners.

Krohmer, with three other chiropractors, were arraigned before Sheetz last Tuesday and their attorneys filed motions to quash the charges. The court overruled both motions. The remaining chiropractors will appear Saturday and next week.

ASKS TO SELL CHURCH

Mt. Gilead, March 30—O. M. Martin and other as trustees of the White Tabernacle United Brethren Church of Cardington, filed a petition against the United Brethren Church and other asking permission through a court order to sell the property now held to purchase a more suitable location which is the Presbyterian Church. They claim to have entered into a contract for the purchase of the Presbyterian Church, but await the court order before selling the other. O. M. Martin represents the plaintiffs.

ANNUAL SUPPER HELD IN SCHOOL

Judge Vaughan Is Toastmaster; Truax Buoys Up Hopes in Talk

Mt. Gilead, March 30—More than 200 local members of the League of Ohio Sportsmen were banqueted in the gymnasium of Mt. Gilead High School here last night in the annual supper. The banquet was served by the members of the high school and the meal was prepared by the domestic science class.

The program introduced by Toastmaster Judge W. P. Vaughan was very entertaining and held high interest for the members. Possibility of Morrow County becoming the seat of one of the state's large hatcheries and game reserves was stimulated last night when C. V. Truax, state director of agriculture, stated that the members would see the project completed in 1928. It calls for the construction of a dam at the former Wesley Shaffer property, recently investigated by the state. Proceedings have just been completed clearing the title of the land and the attorney general is soon expected to approve the abstract. Director Truax announced the intention of building a new dam further down creek to take in 12 acres of land under water and to then rebuild the old dam. This is only a short distance east of Mt. Gilead.

Ike Myers, president of the League of Ohio Sportsmen, was present and gave a short talk, lamenting the fact that sporting laws moved so slowly in the state legislature. It required three times two years for the passage of a bill to change laws, he said.

J. E. Pflueger, president of the local Walter League of Ohio, gave a short and interesting talk.

Added zest was given the meeting by the presence of Harry Sayre, assistant attorney general's office. He gave a "song and dance" turn and was followed with some of his experiences. He is a former Morrow County man and has many friends here.

J. W. Stuber, secretary of the Ohio Sportsman League, gave the principal address of the evening accompanied by still life pictures. His topic was "My Life in Nova Scotia."

H. C. HARRIS, FAIR BOARD HEAD, TO SEEK OFFICE

Mt. Gilead, March 30—H. C. Harris, a farmer of Canaan Township, has been the first to announce his candidacy for county commissioner. Two nominations are to be selected in the August primaries. Harris is president of the Morrow County Agricultural Associa-

This NEW Seed Treatment Increases Corn Yield 5 to 15 Bushels per Acre

A new seed corn treatment has made big increases in yield possible. This amazing treatment prevents seedling blight, root rot and other diseases that literally steal the results of your hard work in hot fields.

Three years of practical use have demonstrated the value of this treatment. Agricultural workers, seed corn growers, and farmers throughout the Corn Belt have, in comparative tests, obtained increases in yield of from 5 to 15 bushels per acre.

This new seed treatment protects the seed from disease both on the seed and in the soil. It thus insures germination and sturdy growth never before possible from poor seed and benefits the best seed by protecting it from injurious and costly attacks of soil-infesting organisms.

Easy to Use—and Costs but a Few Cents per Acre

You need no special equipment for this new seed treatment. No tiresome or lengthy procedure is involved. Two bushels of seed can be treated in less than three minutes. And the cost is less than 5c per acre.

Bayer seed treatment comes in

Treat Other Seeds Too

Use Bayer seed treatment for your potatoes and other vegetables and help prevent the costly diseases that cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants and low yields of crops.

Tests Conducted by U. S. Dept. of Agriculture Show that the Bayer Dust treatment of nearly disease-free Dent Corn gave an increase of 8.5 bushels per acre; of Diplodia infected seed, 15.8 bushels, and of Gibberella infected seed, 28.5 bushels.—Phytopathology, Jan. 1928

Read what users say after actual field tests:

P. W. KEMPSTER, Prophetstown, Ill. "Treated 55 bushels seed corn last spring—one bushel seed planted without treating. Found germination of treated corn earlier and stronger. Dent-ing of corn 12 to 14 days earlier. Stalks showed much more strength at maturity, in fact, our treated corn stand was 50% better than untreated. Every each person interested in raising corn would treat a few kernels from different ears against kernels of the same ears untreated, and test them out, he would be convinced of its usefulness and at maturity of corn would leave its profit to the user."

JOHN W. HARTH, Mendota, Ill. "I used USPULUN on my entire crop and had a fine stand of corn. Growth was good, also vigor, and there were very few weak stalks. Also I had the best yield of corn I have raised since I am farming for myself. I am sure going to treat my whole seed crop next year again. Gophers and ground squirrels did not dig up any seed out of the ground the way they did some years."

One pound treats 6 bushels of seed corn, or 6 to 8 bushels of vegetable seed, or 15 to 20 bushels seed potatoes.

REPUBLICANS GOING TO WILLIS MEETING

Kadgar Grotto Band To Head Local Delegation at Delaware Tonight

A special C., D. & M. car will carry many Marion Republicans to Delaware tonight when Senator Frank B. Willis, candidate for the presidential nomination, will address a homecoming meeting.

The Marion delegation will be headed by the Kadgar Grotto Band and will take part in an old-fashioned torch light parade, it has been announced. Other Marion Republicans will make the trip in automobile.

This is Willis' first appearance in this section of the state and his address is expected to touch on points not yet mentioned in his campaign against Herbert Hoover as the choice of the Ohio delegation to the national convention.

Junior Chamber of Commerce will help him to assume the responsibility of that leadership."

Tiemeyer also told of the work of the Cincinnati Junior Chamber of Commerce since its founding eight years ago. He told of the projects successfully undertaken there and pointed out that the Junior organization and the Chamber of Commerce should combine their efforts along cetain lines.

"Youth is often accused of being irreverent and irresponsible," Tiemeyer said, "but in fact youth is ambitious and energetic. One of the uses of a Junior Chamber of Commerce is to direct and utilize in a productive way the surplus energy of youth."

Others Give Talks

Rhu C. Cheney, president of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly and introduced the speaker. Others who spoke were George Whysall, Charles H. Conley, and T. M. Cunningham, representing older men present at the banquet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held at 7:30 o'clock next Thursday night in the Marion Chamber of Commerce rooms.

ON RADIO PROGRAM

Newman Browarsky Heard in Violin Number from WEAO

Newman Browarsky, 686 Girard-st, last night was heard in a group of violin numbers broadcast from WEAO at Dublin, on the program sponsored by the Monges Ross Co. Mr. Browarsky has accepted the Marion Branch of the organization. He played "Ave Maria" by Carl Wiedemann, and "Minuet in G" Beethoven. His accompaniments were played by Lelia M. Shonert, of Bucyrus. Tom Johnson, of Bucyrus, also was heard in two numbers, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" and "Wollenhaupt's Concert Etude." The program was broadcast at 7 o'clock.

LIMA STORE OPENING IS WELL ATTENDED

Marion People See New Concern Member of Chain Organization Get Under Way

About 700 persons from Ashland, Mansfield, Bucyrus and Marion attended the formal opening of the Bluem Store at Lima, held last night between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30. Considerably more than half the members of the party were from this city and included employes of the Uhler-Phillips Store and friends of the organization.

The party also included employe of the R. B. Maxwell Co., Mansfield, which with the Bluem and Uhler-Phillips Co., comprise the Incorporated Stores. Guests from Ashland and Bucyrus were from the Home Company Store in these cities.

The trip was made by special train over the Erie Railroad, which left Marion at 5 o'clock. In order that all the employes of the organization might attend the opening the store here was closed at 1:30 o'clock and the store at Mansfield at 2:30 o'clock. "Pep" songs and music contributed by groups from the several stores afforded entertainment on the trip. A dinner, at which covers were placed for about 75 at the Argonne Hotel, brought together various goups of friends before the opening.

Morgan Burke, former member of the firm of the Uhler-Phillips Co., here, is managing director of the Incorporated Stores, and T. Ellsworth Shinn, member of the Home Company, Ashland, is the general manager of the Bluem Store.

The store, which occupies four floors, is one of the most attractive in merchandise and equipment in this section of the state. Much careful thought has been given to the arrangement of the various departments and nothing has been overlooked in respecting the comfort and pleasure of the store patrons.

In spite of the rain hundreds of persons inspected the new store yesterday afternoon and last night. Members of the Altschul String Trio, of Lima, entertained on the main floor throughout the opening hours while members of a Venetian Trio, garbed in native costumes, entertained on the various floors and the Grace Sisters contributed banjo and vocal numbers.

The windows were beautifully decorated for the occasion while throughout the entire building baskets of flowers and greenery combined with the handsome array of merchandise, afforded a colorful setting for the reception.

HUGH DIAMOND TALKS AT FACTORY BANQUET

One hundred and fifty guests, including members of the club and company officers, attended the monthly banquet of the Marion Steam Shovel Club held in the dining room at the plant last night. Hugh Diamond, of Galion, was the speaker of the evening and music was furnished by the Postle orchestra.

Burton's speeches will be in support of the campaign on behalf of Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover for the Republican presidential nomination.

THEFT REPORTED

August C. Ottmiller, 1110 Bennett-st, reported to the police today that some one entered his chicken house, Tuesday night and took nine Plymouth Rock chickens.

A health story from Berlin says that the people over there put chlorine in their drinking water to make it healthful. First time we ever heard that they had any drinking water.

SECTIONS OF COUNTY FACING FLOOD THREAT

Rivers Rising Following Storm Which Sweeps Through Northern Ohio

With a spring rainfall of 1.12 inches Marion's sewer system again quickly filled last night, particularly on the East Side.

Water from six inches to more than a foot deep entirely covered the street from curb to curb at some intersections of Mt. Vernon-av, Church-st and Creighton. Wide portions of the center were flooded over curbs. A large number of citizens on the East Side were again found water in the cellars of their homes.

The rain fall began yesterday afternoon but not until evening did it take on storm proportions, continuing for several hours.

W. Center-st Flooded

W. Center-st, on the viaduct, was flooded, filled to the top of the curbing.

Service Director O. A. Benedict said this morning that no complaints had been received at his office and that the high water receded rapidly.

Farm crops are not expected to be seriously damaged unless there is a hard freeze following the deluge of rain. Roland L. Leeper, service manager of the Marion County Farm Bureau, expressed the opinion this morning that the wheat would weather the storm well unless a cold snap followed.

The weather forecast for today is "somewhat colder." Slowly rising temperature is predicted for tomorrow.

Yesterday's high temperature was 40 degrees. The low was 32. A year ago yesterday the high was 57 and the low 38 degrees.

MARTIN FETTER DIES AT COUNTRY HOME

84-Year-Old Resident of Claridon Township Passes Away; Funeral Saturday

Martin Fetter, 84, who has resided practically all of his eighty-one mile south of Claridon, died at 10 o'clock last night at his home. He had been suffering from infirmities of age for more than three weeks.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at his late home, one mile south of Claridon, and burial rites will be conducted at Marion Cemetery, where interment will be made, at 2 o'clock. Rev. James Campbell, pastor of Salem Evangelical Church, south of the city, will officiate.

Mr. Fetter was born in Baden, Germany, the son of John and Elizabeth Fetter, both natives of that country. He came to this country when a year old and has lived in Marion County ever since. His widow, to whom he had been married for 60 years, was before her marriage, Miss Catherine Phillippi.

Surviving with the widow are a daughter, Mrs. Ida McKibben, at home, and two sons, J. F. and Henry Fetter, of Claridon, a sister, the last of Mt. Fetter's five brothers and sisters, three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

To make room for new merchandise we are having a Special Clearance Sale for Sat. only. Open until 9 p. m. The Daintee Fashion Shop, 137 E. Church. *

FIREMEN CALLED OUT DURING RAIN STORM

Chimney Sparks Cause Alarm; Fire Fighters Drenched in Downpour

Sparks shooting from a chimney at the home of Ralph White, 226 Haney, during the heavy rain storm last night, alarmed neighbors, who called the fire department. Firemen from the central station who responded to the call found the chimney burning out. No damage resulted other than that sustained by the firemen, who were thoroughly soaked by the pouring rain.

Smoke from a chimney sweeping down over the roof at the plant of the American Malleable Castings Co. on W. Center-st, this morning, caused neighbors to think the building was on fire and a call was sent into the fire department. Before the firemen from the central station could leave the building, however, the same neighbor called again to tell them of her mistake. Firemen from the No. 2 station also responded to the call but had reached the building before the mistake was discovered.

MARION PHYSICIAN IS GIVEN JUDGMENT

Dr. Burt B. Hurd of Marion was awarded judgment for $167 in Common Pleas Court at Mt. Gilead, yesterday, in connection with a suit brought against Lottie M. Layman. The action was brought for collection of an account. Judgment was granted by Judge W. P. Vaughan when the defendant failed to file answer to the petition.

PATROLMAN IS HURT WHEN WOMAN SMASHES GLASS

Toledo, March 30—Patrolman George Beenhouten today was receiving treatment for facial cuts inflicted when Mrs. Florence Sandhoff, authorities charge, smashed a fruit jar which Beenhouten was holding close to his nose in an effort to determine whether the jar contained liquor. The affair occurred during a raid late yesterday. Mrs. Sandhoff, mother of seven children, was arrested by raiding officers.

WILL SPEAK AT LEAGUE MEET

Wade, March 30—K. W. Pavenmire will speak on the subject, "Seventy Times Seven," at the Epworth League service at 6:30 o'clock Sunday night. The talk will be a part of a series of addresses on the theme, "Advantages of Christian Living" sponsored by the members of the league. The members will hold their biannual election April 8.

Scores of Greetings Sent to Mrs. Raffensperger On 94th Anniversary of Birth

Marion Woman Nearing Century Mark Remembered by Many Friends Today; Tokens Come from Several States

Floral pieces and scores of birthday greetings, many of them bearing messages of opening birthdays, poured in from friends in all parts of the United States, was the program on which Mrs. Anna L. Raffensperger, mother of Dr. E. H. Raffensperger, spent her ninety-fourth birthday anniversary at the home of Prospect-st, today.

Having recovered from a severe cold, from the flu, Mrs. Raffensperger is able to be out of bed but is still confined to her room. Cards and packages from friends in Vermont, California and on the south began to arrive early this morning.

Watches Current Events

Although during the century mark of interest of the aged woman in affairs of the world continues unabated. Each morning her first interest is to learn what the morning paper is telling of activities of the world. She also keeps up a remarkable correspondence with friends, each day writing four and five letters and receiving many. She has also adopted the thoughtful practice of writing a short note of sympathy to the members of families visited by death.

Born in Vermont, Mrs. Raffensperger has had a remarkably interesting life. She started teaching school at the age of 12 years and at the time of at her marriage with Rev. E. B. Raffensperger, was principal of the schools at Urbana. She also has written a number of books, some of which are in the Marion library. They are mostly of stories of life in New England.

Living in Toledo at the time of the Civil war, she became a member of the Christian Commission, an organization similar to the present Red Cross, and worked in several of the battlefields of the south.

She came to Marion in the early 70's, when her husband accepted the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church. They remained here for several years when they moved to Pennsylvania, where Reverend Raffensperger died a few years later. She then moved to the city of Washington, where she lost all of her household goods in a fire that destroyed a large storage building. She came to this city a short time later where she has made her home.

INTEREST CONTINUES IN MEETINGS HERE

Revival Meetings Well Attended at Three Local Churches

Rev. S. F. Porter, and a delegation of 12 members of the Prospect Baptist Church were in attendance at the revival service last night at Emmanuel Baptist Church. Reverend Porter sang a solo number, "Somebody Knows." There was one conversion.

Rev. Earl L. Holliday, pastor, preached on the subject, "A Hurried Call," taking as his text, Acts, 8:26: "And the angel of the Lord spake unto Phillip saying, 'Arise and go towards the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza which is desert.'" Reverend Holliday will preach at the service at 7:30 o'clock tonight on the subject, "Whose Children Are You?"

Trinity Service

Despite inclement weather a fairly large congregation was present for the revival service last night at Trinity Baptist Church, when the pastor, Dr. U. S. Davis, spoke on the subject, "Prayer," and D. L. Moody of Columbus, sang a group of numbers. Tonight will be young people's night and Mr. Davis will speak on the subject, "How It Is Done." Professor Moody is arranging a special musical program for the service.

At First United Brethren Church, where a revival has been in progress since Tuesday, a young people's choir will be organized under direction of B. K. Hill at the evangelistic meeting tonight.

Evangelist's Sermon

In his sermon last night, Rev. Carl Vernon Roop of Findlay, evangelist, discussed "Soul-winning," basing his message on Proverbs 11:30. "He is wise who winneth souls."

"The church does not need more organization, genius, education and talent as much as it needs those consecrated on the altar for service," Reverend Roop said in part. Personal work for the revival is in charge of the pastor of the church, Rev. W. H. Howard.

The revival continues tonight, with a service at 7:30 o'clock. Featuring Sunday's service will be the men's meeting in the afternoon when Reverend Roop will preach on the subject, "A Terrific Whirlwind."

PYTHIANS OF COUNTY MEET AT PROSPECT

Seven Lodges Represented; Next County Gathering Scheduled at Waldo

Representatives from seven Knights of Pythias lodges in Marion County were present at a county meeting held last night at the quarters of Darward Lodge No. 153, in Prospect.

The lodges represented were Marion Lodge, No. 102, and Canby No. 51, of Marion; Whetstone No. 718 of Waldo; Waller Scott No. 211, of Talbut; North Star No. 131, of Essex, and Darward lodge.

The rank of page was conferred.

The next county meeting will be held next Wednesday night at Whetstone Lodge of Waldo. At this meeting the rank of esquire will be conferred.

75 ATTEND ANNUAL BANQUET OF SCOUTS

Parents of Boys Are Guests at Event Staged by Troop No. 5

Demonstrations of scouting featured the program given at the annual banquet of Boy Scout Troop No. 5 at the First Presbyterian Church last night.

Under the direction of Senior Patrol Leader Robert Arven the various patrols gave stunts. The troop is headed by Wilbur Sears, scoutmaster.

Scout Executive W. C. Brown showed three reels of films taken at Camp John A. Owens last year. The movies depicted scenes of scouts in camp and gave an idea of camp life.

The banquet was attended by 75 scouts and parents of Boy Scouts of Troop No. 1 waited on the

ASK 500 MARSHALS IN CHICAGO PRIMARY

City in Throes of Its Worst Pre-Election Reign of Terror

The tragedy apparently executed according to the merciless code of gangland, was discovered by county highway police. It was their theory that Marchese had been "taken for a ride," released from the car and told to run. As he ran he was shot down from the rear. They believe he was not yet dead when his clothes were soaked in gasoline and set afire.

The series of prohibition raids which started last night when Bailiff Beards was shot, was headed by George E. Golding, chief of the general investigators recently rushed into Chicago with orders to "dry up" the city and rid the ranks of grafting dry agents.

Even Scores, Claim

The "drying up" campaign is under the supervision of United States District Attorney George C. O. Johnson, an appointee of Senator Charles S. Deneen, whose home was bombed here last Monday night. Deneen is leader of the Republican faction opposed to the Thompson-Crowe Small combine.

When the raid started last night reports had it that they were inspired by Senator Deneen to even scores with the local administration. The shooting of a Thompson-Crowe worker in the next place raided apparently added evidence to the reports.

But high government officials on the scene, together with statements from Treasury officials at Washington, deny that politics has any hand in the present "drying up" campaign. The government has been at work on this campaign—under cover—for weeks, it was pointed out, as evidenced by the indictments several days ago against Titus Haffa, Chicago alderman, and several others on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

Senator Deneen, who came on from Washington yesterday, was on the ground in active charge of his forces today. He will remain here until after the primary election April 10, which promises the greatest display of fireworks in the history of the city.

Working by his side is Judge John A. Swanson, his first lieutenant and candidate for Cook County state's attorney. Swanson's home was wrecked by a bomb the same night Senator's Deneen's front porch was blown away.

New bombing threats fired at Swanson so far have failed to materialize. His political rally billed for Grace Missionary Church at Elmwood Park last night came off as scheduled, despite several anonymous warnings that the structure would be blown up.

Eight insurance companies were reported to have refused to insure the church against damage. Not to be defeated by this predicament, the fiery Deneen campaigner put up his personal bond as a guarantee to the pastor, Rev. Thomas H. Nelson, against damage to his church.

BOMB IS FOUND

Snow Believed To Have Extinguished Lighted Fuse

Chicago, March 30 — A gigantic bomb, composed of 16 seven-inch sticks of dynamite, enough to blow to bits a square block of buildings, was found today under a loading platform of the S. & W. Levy Produce Co., commission merchants.

A lighted fuse 15 feet long had burned about half way to the explosive and had been extinguished, evidently by falling snow. The dynamite sticks were bound together with tape and placed under a rock weighing 100 pounds.

Harry Levy, member of the firm and apparently an intended victim of the blast, said he could give no reason for an attempt to blow up the building.

Selection of 18 Students Fills Harding High Quota in National Honor Society

Year Completed with Naming of 10 Seniors and Eight Juniors for Enrolment; Quota Totals 37

[illegible] the members [illegible] Honor Society, Harding [illegible] for membership this year is completed. National Honor Society is to be [illegible] and student, [illegible] scholarship [illegible] service.

Nine students were elected from the senior class at the regular meeting of the society, making a total of 37 members selected for 1928, complete.

First Juniors Named

This is the first time in the history of the school that juniors have been given membership in the society. They will form the nucleus of the junior group next year, when 10 per cent of the senior class will again be chosen for membership in the society.

The choice was made by a committee composed of 11 members of the high school faculty from the highest ten per cent of the senior and junior classes and in accordance with reports from the entire membership of the faculty after lists of eligible students had been submitted to each teacher.

List of Pledges

The honor society pledges, to become members of the society in induction services shortly after spring vacation, are: Seniors: Arthur Chesley, Robert Elliott, Gertrude Giddings, Arthur Griffiths, Thelma Johnson, Edna Rossoloring, Helen Mayer, Lucile Schaufler, Richard Snow and Clyde Woodell.

Juniors: Evelyn Bachelder, Lenore Bondley, Margaret Forry, Jane Guthery, Frederick Merchant, Mary Jo Stafford, Elizabeth Staker and John Waddell.

EAST, WEST TO WED

Elizabeth Williamson, lower, of Kalamazoo, Mich., is to be the bride of Yoshio Markino, upper, brilliant Japanese artist, who is now exhibiting his works in London, following a four years' visit to the United States. Markino is soon to display his paintings in Rome.

SCHOOL ISSUES ITS "APRIL FOOL" PAPER

Harding High School's annual "nonsense issue" of the Quiver Junior, weekly publication, was published today. "News" in what is spoken of as the "April Fool" issue, is generally without foundation and largely the imaginings of its youthful reporters.

Willis Assails Hoover for Failure to Vote; Maschke Sees Hoover, Smith Looming

Ohio Senator Says Secretary Supported Chicago on Lake Water Steal

SPEAKS AT WALDO

Insists Diversion Must Be Prevented To Preserve Ohio's Industries

Toledo, March 30—Claims that Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover was approximately 40 years of age before he exercised the right of suffrage, that he supported the side of Chicago as against Ohio's interests in connection with the so-called "Chicago water steal," and that he "was unhesitating in his support of the League of Nations without reservations," were voiced by U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis here last night during an address in furtherance of his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I cannot understand the political makeup of any young man who is so indifferent to political principles that he would fail to exercise his right to suffrage," said Willis. "It is said of one of the candidates for the presidency that he had never voted at a presidential election prior to 1920 and, by his own statement before a legislative committee, he had not voted at a local election in his own state. He had thus come to approximately the age of 40 years without having exercised the right of suffrage. Perhaps, this is a good way to develop American spirit, but, to me, it does not seem commendable."

Willis declared that while he was siding in "fighting the battle for Ohio," Hoover was alleged to have been "making speeches, in effect, in favor of the Chicago water steal." Willis insisted the proposed diversion of water from the Great Lakes at Chicago should be prevented so as to "preserve Ohio's industrial life."

Clevelander Predicts Al Will Be Democratic Nominee This Fall

TALKS AT CLEVELAND

Barrage of Sarcasm Directed by Committeeman at Senator-Candidate

Cleveland, March 30 — Predicting that Al Smith would be the Democratic nominee for president this year, Maurice Maschke, Republican National committeeman, speaking before the Western Reserve Club here last night asserted that Herbert Hoover is the man to match him."

It was Maschke's maiden attack on a presidential candidate in a primary and he delivered a barrage of sarcasm on Senator Frank B. Willis of Ohio, who is opposing Hoover for Ohio's 58 delegates at the Kansas City convention.

"What would happen if Willis were the Republican nominee and Al Smith the Democratic candidate?" Maschke asked his audience. "Why we wouldn't have enough left of the Republican party here to tell the tale. Smith will be the nominee and the man to match him is Herbert Hoover.

Maschke told his audience that he thought a recent letter from Willis "came from some one running for sheriff."

"Willis put the matter of 'no jobs' on a plane of that sort," the Cuyahoga County leader declared. "He knows he is defeated. He is trying to poison the minds of the people of this state against Hoover, but he isn't going to get away with it. The people are pretty rem-sided."

Maschke concluded by comparing the respective careers of Willis and Hoover. He asserted that "there is no use presenting a candidate unless he has a reasonable chance for election."

BOYS AT Y. M. C. A. TO GO ON HIKE SATURDAY

A hike to a secret place in Marion County Saturday is being planned for the prep class under the direction of F. O. Rudolph, physical director of the Y. M. C. A.

The hikers will meet at the "Y" Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock and will pack their own lunches. Games will be played during the afternoon.

MANSFIELD DEFEATS LOCAL DEBATE TEAM

Harding High Students Lose in Contest Here Last Night

Harding High School's affirmative debate team lost by a two to one vote in their debate with the negative team from Mansfield last night at the local school. The debate was on Ohio's tax system. Three members of the debate team of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, served as judges and Fred W. Warner presided. Nearly 100 persons attended.

Harding's team consisted of Lenore Bondley, Elizabeth Staker, Merritt Marshall, and Walter McElroy, alternate.

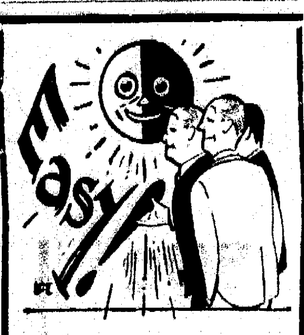
RITES AT CHURCH

Funeral Services of O. S. Rapp Held Today; Masons Take Part

The funeral of Orlando S. Rapp, whose death occurred suddenly Wednesday morning at his home, 213 S. Greenwood-st, took place at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, this afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Members of Marion Lodge, No. 70, F. and A. M., conducted their burial rites, and the officiating pastor was Rev. S. S. Hardy, rector at St. Paul's. Interment was in Marion Cemetery.

STIFFLER RITES TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Funeral services for Simon Stiffler, who died suddenly yesterday while visiting at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Gatchell, 480 Smith-st, will be held at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at his late home, 125 Fies-av, in charge of Rev. C. M. Brown, pastor of Pilgrim Holiness Church. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. In addition to his widow, three daughters and five sons, a sister and four brothers, Mr. Stiffler is survived by 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.



THERE'S a group of well dressed men who know "it's easy." If you avail yourself of our thorough cleaning and pressing service, it's easy to look right.

FIRST WIFE IS DEAD, FURLONG DECLARES

War Veteran, Brother of Marion Man, Surprises Relatives with Statement

William Edward Furlong, shell-shocked World War veteran who was found living in Detroit, Ill., about two weeks ago after a strange absence of eight years during which his brother in this city and other relatives had given him up for dead surprised his relatives yesterday by declaring that his first wife is not alive.

He made this declaration when informed that his former wife, who has remarried has brought suit to force him to support two children which she says are his. The woman represented to be his first wife is Mrs. E. R. Sala, of Cleveland Park, Kan.

Furlong is a brother of Lawrence Furlong, Erie engineer residing on Oak st, this city.

The war veteran, who is reported to have suffered a lapse of memory as the result of being shell-shocked and gassed, is now living with his second wife at Detroit, Ill. He declares that he witnessed the death of his first wife last year.

His first wife, according to reports, obtained a divorce in 1922, following Furlong's disappearance from their home in Kansas City.

BOY FATALLY HURT

Newcomerstown, March 30—Earl Seiber, 9, was struck by an automobile as he crossed the street on his way home from school. His skull was fractured and he lived only a short time. He was the son of Clark Seiber.

LEGION CARD PARTY PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Committees Discuss Arrangements for Building Fund Benefit

Preliminary plans for a benefit card party to be sponsored by the Marion Hotel Pinochle Club in behalf of the building fund of Bird-McGinnis Post, No. 162, of the American Legion, were outlined at a meeting of committees representing the club and Legion last night.

The general public will be invited to the party, which will take place at either the Eagles' hall or the American Legion Dugout. Tickets will sell at $1.50 each and will entitle each purchaser to attend a dinner and also to participate in the card contests.

Prizes will be furnished by the Pinochle Club, the plan being to make awards to winners in euchre, bridge and pinochle.

A ways and means committee will be appointed at the next meeting of the pinochle club on April 3.

Those attending last night's meeting were A. E. Cheney, Edward Smith, L. E. Starr and Fred Hayback, representin the Marion Hotel Pinochle Club, and L. Don Jones and E. G. Siefert of Bird-McGinnis Post.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS SCHOOL PERFORMANCE

The auditorium was well-filled for second presentation of the Central Junior High School ninth grade play, "Penrod" last night at the school. Third presentation will be given at 8 o'clock tonight in the school auditorium.

$15,000 LUMBER FIRE

Columbus, March 30—A fire last night believed to have been started by lightning caused a loss of $15,000 to the Linden Lumber Co. here, according to estimates today. Six hundred feet of lumber was lost in the conflagration.

MAN BURNED, DIES

Urbana, March 30 — George H. Hoover, 41, died at the home of his brother, William H. Helvie, near Christiansburg. Several days ago he was burned when the bed on which he was lying caught fire, presumably from a cigar which he had been smoking before he fell asleep. Pneumonia developed as a result of smoke inhaled and this caused his death.

ROSENDAHL TO SPEAK

Columbus, March 30 — Comdr. Charles E. Rosendahl, officer in charge of the U. S. dirigible Los Angeles, will speak before the Columbus Rotary Club at noon Tuesday at the Deshler-Wallick. The Columbus air board and the Aero Club will hear him at the aero clubrooms Tuesday night.

THEATER SITE LEASED

Washington, C. H., March 30—Construction of a second new theater in this city was settled by the filing for record of a 99-year-lease of the Arcade Building, in N. Fayette-st. The old building will be torn away at once. The lessee is John G. Gregory of Springfield. The new structure will seat 1200 and have large business rooms. The new Fayette Theater will be opened May 1.

CITY LOSES $12,000

Springfield, March 30—The city will lose approximately $12,000 of the $29,-[illegible].70, which C. Forge Moorehead, city auditor, confessed having embezzled and for which he now is serving a term of not less than five years in the state penitentiary. This became known today when the Columbia Casualty Company, New York, which was on his bond, informally reported what settlement it was willing to make.

ASK PRAYERS FOR MEXICO

Cincinnati, March 30 — Eleven bishops in the Cincinnati province of the Catholic Church late yesterday issued a joint appeal to 2,500,000 members of the church to pray for "persecuted brethren in Mexico," according to an official announcement made by Archbishop John T. McNicholas. The appeal followed a recent conference of the bishops in the Cincinnati archdiocese, with Archbishop McNicholas at the Archbishop's residence in Norwood.

Sees First Time After Use of Famous Sykodoner; Well-Known Retired Business Man Rejoices

Mr. ——— ——— (name upon request), well-known retired butcher of Marion, was totally blind for more than a year. The best of medical skill did not seem to give much relief; until the famous Sykodoner was used a few times. Then, and not until then, did this now happy citizen and neighbor see—the first time for ever so long. This caused so much happiness in the family of this good man, that his heart went out to a suffering friend—so much so, that he purchased a Sykodoner with his own money and presented it to the other unfortunate man. Such makes this a far better world to live in. May God bless him!

Be sure to see the Sykodoner Man today, and let one of our nurses give you a free demonstration of the most wonderful phenomena of all your life. For the Sykodoner has proved so remarkably effective in most chronic ills that it is no longer an experiment. Hundreds of American hospitals now use this new scientific principle.

Think of all the poor unfortunate sufferers in this world who might now be enjoying life and health, did they know of the most amazing thing in the world—the Sykodoner Health System. See it at once—you cannot afford to miss it. No cost or obligation now. And trade your sorrow for happiness.

Hours, daily: 8 to 5; also evenings and Sunday forenoons. Now at 329 W. Center St. After this week, at office and residence, 543 N. Greenwood St., one block south of car line.

Do a kind act by sending this to an unfortunate friend.—Adv.

... the hero, although ... a farm boy that develops ... of the sturdy, whole... variety, destined to ... his own sphere but not ... first accomplished some... which he will be remembered. ... is absorbed in the ... facilities of his country ... hopes of developing a sturdier grain to withstand the "red rust" epidemics which so often wipe out entire harvests of wheat. He works day and night, reading what literature he is able to obtain and testing and crossing grains.

It is just after a fever has brought about his untimely death that the grain proves itself and this young American's simple mission in life is accomplished. Although Swenson's drab life and his work for his countryside is indeed the theme of the story the book will perhaps be longer remembered for its few emotional interests.

Equally as powerful a character as Matts himself is Lena Jensen, the older woman whom Matts marries when her husband, a drunkard and bully, dies leaving her a large family to support. Matts has heretofore had no contact with women, and is then only interested in the welfare of the woman and her family. Lena's ardent devotion for him cannot long be ignored and Matts finally enters into marriage with her bringing into her life its first happiness, and himself finding in her an understanding and sympathy, a tragically devoted love almost unknown in that desolate region of unceasing toil.

In Olga, Matts' crippled sister who pines for love, for children and for a home of her own and whose life is even less colorful, more barren than that of Matts himself, there is also a story of heart-rendering appeal.

Although sad, the ending is a suitable one and the book as a whole so carefully written, with such conscientious regard to character protrayal and detail, as to leave a deep impression in the mind of its readers.

HISTORIES OF BOTH PARTIES ARE OUT

PUBLICATION was made last week by the Century Co. of two books which are being hailed as notable advances in popular political education. They are Frank R. Kent's "The Democratic Party: A History," and William Starr Myers' "The Republican Party: A History."

In "The Democratic Party," Mr. Kent traces the vital career of the party from its birth 136 years ago to its present state of temporary apathy, considering fully the five outstanding leaders of the party—Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland, Bryan, Wilson. The author, a native of Baltimore, also wrote "The Great Game of Politics."

Professor Myers' book is a thorough and scholarly account of the origin, development and continued existence of the younger of the two great political parties. He discusses the attitude of the party toward great questions such as slavery, reconstruction, the tariff, foreign policy, and prohibition, and the great personalities who have led the party, Republican presidents from Lincoln to Coolidge.

Professor Myers is instructor of politics at Princeton University and a writer and lecture on current events in the political world. He is also the author of "Socialism and American Ideals" and "American Democracy Today" and is associate editor of the New York Journal of Commerce.

"THE STORY OF IVY" IS UNIQUE TALE

MARIE BELLOC LOWNDES, the gifted sister of Hilaire Belloc, whose stories are such psychologically powerful analyses of crime that she has won for herself a wide reputation both as novelist and criminologist, has written a new book which is unique among murder tales. "The Story of Ivy," which Doubleday, Doran has just published, is the drama of a soulless woman, beautiful, sweet, gentle, good-natured, charming. A woman with no secret vices, who, through petty selfishness and lack of imagination drifts into a cold-blooded crime for which she permits her innocent lover to be convicted.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals will be received at the office of the County Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, in Marion, Ohio, until Thursday, April 19, 1928, at two o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard time, for furnishing all the material and performing all the labor required for construction of the following described improvement, in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor on file in the office of said Board of Commissioners:

SOMERLOT-HUFFMAN ROAD IMPROVEMENT No. 2, in the Townships of Pleasant and Richland, in Marion County, Ohio, by grading, draining and construction of drainage structures and paving with dry-rolled macadam to a width of twelve (12) feet.

Length of improvement—10,015 feet or 1.9+ miles.

Estimated cost—$12,000.00.

Date for commencement of work, June 1, 1928. Date for completion of improvement, September 1, 1928.

Bidders are requested to be present at the above named time and place where all proposals will be publicly opened, read and examined and an award made at that time or at such time to which consideration of said bids may be duly adjourned, as provided by law.

Each bid must be accompanied by cash or certified check on some solvent bank in an amount equal to five per cent of the estimated cost of the improvement, made payable to the order of the Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, for the benefit of said County, which will be forfeited by the successful bidders in case they fail to enter into a contract and bond within five days from the date of award of contract.

The successful bidders will be required to give bond in an amount equal to one-half the estimated cost of the improvement with two sureties or a surety company to the approval and satisfaction of the said Board of Commissioners for the proper construction and completion of the work.

Contractors will be required to give previous experience and the amount and size of equipment.

Bids to be signed by all parties interested in the contract.

By order of the Board of Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, dated March 28, 1928.

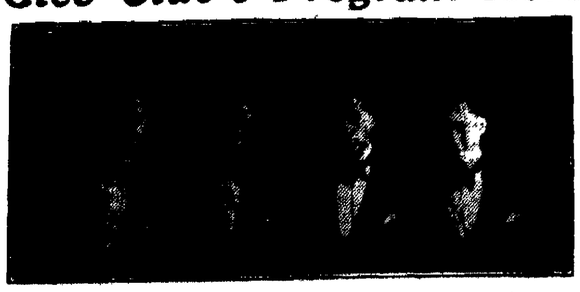
O. S. U. Quartet to Feature Glee Club's Program Here



PICTURED above are members of the quartet of Ohio State University who will share a part of the program to be presented by the Men's Glee Club of the University at the Star Auditorium Friday night, April 6. The glee club and quartet are appearing here under the auspices of the senior class of Harding High School as an additional number of the lecture course program given by the class this year.

Three members of the quartet, George Studebaker, Columbus, first tenor; Howard Waugh, Columbus, first bass, and Chester Cowdrey, Cleveland second bass, have made three concert trips previous to this one. The newcomer to the quartet is Albert Essex, Columbus, second tenor. Waugh is president of the club and is active otherwise at the school in dramatics.

Their presentation will include special arrangements of "My Blue Heaven" and "Among My Souvenirs."

NOTICE OF ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Notice is hereby given that the County Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, have determined to improve the following described road in Marion County, to-wit:

"Beginning at the intersection of the Marion-Waldo I. C. H. No. 109 with County Road No. 108 in Section 14, Pleasant Township, thence easterly on or near the line of the present County Road No. 108 through sections 13 and 14, Pleasant Township and Section 18, Richland Township to an intersection with County Road No. 132 in said Section 18 of Richland Township, also, beginning at the intersection of County Road No. 108 with County Road No. 151 in Section 13, Pleasant Township; thence southerly on or near the line of present Road No. 151 to County Road No. 150; thence easterly on or near the line of Road No. 150 through Section 24 of Pleasant Township and Section 19 of Richland Township to an intersection with the Columbus-Sandusky I. C. H. No. 1 in said Section 19, Richland Township and there terminating, being in all a distance of about three and seven-eights (3 7-8) miles."

The said improvement having been designated THE OWENS-MAPLE GROVE-MYRES ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

Copies of the surveys, plats, profiles, cross-sections, specifications and estimates, together with an estimated assessment upon the lands to be benefited by such improvement for the proportion of the cost thereof to be assessed therefor, as prepared by the County Surveyor of said Marion County, are now on file in the office of the Board of County Commissioners of said Marion County for the inspection of all persons interested therein.

Objections to said improvement and to such estimated assessments, and claims for damages to be sustained on account of the construction of said improvement, will be heard by the said Board of Commissioners in their office in Marion, on Monday, April 16, 1928, at one (1) o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard time, and unless such claims are filed in writing with the said Board of Commissioners on or before the time fixed for said hearing, the same shall be waived, except as to minors or persons under disability.

By order of the Board of County Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, dated March 28, 1928.

T. A. O'LEARY,
m30apr6 Clerk of Board.

ANOTHER MARION LADY INDORSING THE NEW KONJOLA

Ended the Dreadful Neuritis Pains She Was Suffering

Reports are now being received from all parts of Marion, in which men and women are describing the wonderful relief this celebrated Konjola medicine has given them in cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders or rheumatism and neuritis. Just a few days ago, Mrs. Emma McNeal, well known Marion lady, residing at 322 Uncapher Ave., this city, made the following remarkable statement:

MRS. EMMA M'NEAL

"Konjola has helped me a great deal more than I ever expected of any medicine," said Mrs. McNeal. "It built up my health in general and at the same time it relieved the awful neuritis pains which I had been suffering for years.

"I was having a terrible time with my nerves and I couldn't find a medicine to help me. But the worst thing about my case was the dreadful neuritis pains which affected my arms and limbs. My muscles seemed to jerk and twist, and I often felt like every nerve in my body was on edge. I couldn't sleep, and I know I was suffering worse agonies than I could describe in writing. Both day and night I was in misery.

"I couldn't find anything that would really end my trouble, and I didn't know what to do next. Then I heard about Konjola and what it was doing for Marion people, so I went to the Konjola Man and I got this medicine and started taking it right away. I noticed a difference almost at once, and I continued with Konjola until now I can hardly realize that I ever had a sick day in my life, and the wonderful relief I got from that awful neuritis is the greatest blessing of all. I can sleep a whole night without one single pain. I always feel good in the mornings, and seem to have more life and energy than I ever noticed in myself before.

"After all the great good Konjola has done for me I can recommend it to everyone."

Konjola is strongly recommended at the Stump & Sams Pharmacy, 121 South Main-st, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.—Adv.

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT DRINK MORE WATER

If Your Back Aches or Bladder Bothers, Take a Little Salts

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with sick headaches or dizzy nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink and belongs in every home because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs,, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

COUNTY MEETING

Weather Cuts Down Attendance at Odd Fellows Event in Waldo

A social meeting of Marion County Odd Fellows was held at Waldo last night. The meeting was the second of a series planned for the coming year.

Following a short business session, Wayside Lodge, No. 861, of Marion, adjourned in order to permit members to attend the Waldo meeting. Unfavorable weather conditions however, prevented a large delegation from the Marion lodge from making the trip, according to lodge officials this morning.

Six hundred women and girls are being taught to drive at a woman's driving school. Father's chances for using the family car seem to be getting slimmer and slimmer.

WEATHER MAY DELAY HOP SEVERAL DAYS

Bremen Plane Still on Runway Awaiting Better Conditions

Berlin, Mar. 30—Unruly weather over the Baldonnel Airport has delayed the departure of the Junkers monoplane Bremen on its trans-Atlantic flight to America.

All was in readiness for the flight last night and Captain Koehl and his two companions retired early to be fresh for an early start this morning but at midnight it was definitely announced that the flight would not be attempted today.

The fully loaded plane will remain on its specially-built wooden runaway until the start as it is too heavy to wheel into the hangar. It was covered with a tarpaulin to protect it from the intermittent driving rain at the field which continued through the night.

Meanwhile weather conditions over the Atlantic indicated there was much likelihood that the flight would be attempted before two or three days. A huge steam roller was run over the field all night to keep it firm in case the fliers should suddenly decide to start.

DAINTY AS A ROSE

FOREST CASS

A recent announcement made by the G. R. Kinney Co. rates Forest Cass as one of the most efficient members of the sales force employed at the company's local shoe store, 117 S. Main-st.

Mr. Cass, who has been employed as a salesman at the store here during the last two years, is connected with the department handling young men's footwear.

BACK ON DUTY

Joseph Fisher has resumed his duties at the Erie restaurant following a week's illness.

The costliest street paving on record was that used in Kimberley when the streets of that place were first paved. It was blue clay holding diamonds, and when the mistake was realized, and the paving was carefully scraped up and washed more than five million dollars' worth of diamonds some bigger than hazel nuts, were recovered.

One wonders what time it is so often when one has a new wrist watch.

For Grumpy Husbands

Here's a cheer suggestion for wives

WHEN that early-morning grumpiness first comes onto the marital scene, the young married woman begins to entertain uncertain, doubtful feelings. Before marriage he never acted so rude, so brusque, so horrid. What's the matter, anyhow?

Her older married sister can give her a tip that will ease her mind. She will tell her that the early-morning, sleep-filled personality is not at all the more agreeable personality of the later, more wakeful hours. And she will tell her that the quickest way to rout this grumpiness is to provide a delicious breakfast.

Toast is the piece de resistance of many a breakfast that begins in gloom and finishes in happy, cheerful joy. Toast prepared in any number of tempting ways strikes the spot.

Prepare toast from a delicious loaf of Holsum bread for his breakfast tomorrow. Have it hot, crispy, fragrant. He'll relish every bite, and so will you. Order Holsum today.

Silver Anniversary Marriage List Shows 20 Couples Wed in County in April, 1903

TWENTY marriages took place in Marion County in April of 1903, which means that 20 couples who started out on the sea of matrimony at that time will have the privilege of celebrating their silver wedding anniversaries next month, provided death or other circumstances have not intervened.

In April of 1927, there were 36 marriages in the county, 17 more than the same month in 1903. A survey of records at the Probate Judge's office shows that in the three preceding months of 1903 there were more weddings than in the same period 27 years later, in 1927.

Unusual Contrast

This is regarded as an unusual comparison in view of the fact that population of Marion County is now approximately 20,000 greater than a quarter of a century ago.

April in 1903 appears to have brought at least temporary activity in matrimony and terminated the strange lull of the first three months.

A list of the marriages performed in April of 1903, giving the dates and names of the officiating ministers or magistrates, is given below. It shows that Dr. A. E. Smith, former pastor of Epworth M. E. Church, who is now president of Ohio Northern University, took the lead as the "marrying pastor" of the month, six of the 20 nuptial knots being tied by him. The list follows:

Married in 1903

April 2—Otto F. Merkle and Eva L. Shupp; Dr. A. E. Smith.

April 4—Vanellis Morris and Cora B. Knisely; H. S. Black, justice of the peace.

April 7—Alfred A. Hammett and Edith B. Allen; Rev. George E. Barnard.

April 11—William R. Goon and Florence I an; Dr. A. E. Smith, George A. Starner and J. Cady Marcy; Dr. Frank Granstaff.

April 12—Charles Leslie Mumford and Amanda Adeline Super; Rev. A. Snider. Edward Locher and Dessie Harruff; Rev. E. J. Webster. Eugene U. Briggs and Clara Belle Baker; Dr. A. E. Smith.

April 13—Everett R. Crowley and Lula Griffin; Rev. W. S. Myers.

April 15—Chester L. Carlisle and Hallie Elizabeth Haberman; Rev. A. R. Taylor. John Schott and Elizabeth Wanner; Rev. Henry Jend.

April 19—Frank Edington and Susie Colgrove; Rev. R. E. Carter. William E. Moffett and Leah Lewis; Dr. A. E. Smith.

April 21—Elmer L. Craig and Elsie Brady; Rev. E. J. Webster.

April 22—William E. Albrecht and Emma A. Lusch; Rev. Herman H. Fleer.

April 23—John F. Mantz and Catherine Denzer; Rev. E. F. W. Stellhorn. Guy T. Wasson and D. Maud Scott; Dr. A. E. Smith.

April 26—Daniel H. Hecker and Ida E. Bird; Dr. A. E. Smith.

April 29—William G. Larimore and Adah I. Dix; Rev. George E. Barnard.

April 30—Ray Geer and Ida Lotze; Rev. E. F. W. Stellhorn.

Ham!

with a flavor that a porterhouse steak would envy

LUXURIOUS MEAT at a price anyone can afford—that's the new, improved Sugardale sugar-cured ham. It's so good it makes any meal a banquet, for it is sweet and mild and tender, with just the right touch of smoky tang. And every ham is the same—never a one too salty, and no need of parboiling.

Even the appearance of the new SugardaleHamsisdistinctive—every one plump and luscious and almost all steak. Sugardale Hams are individually selected from the finest tender, sleek young porkers. That's why they have less waste and more good meat in proportion to bone than any ham you ever saw.

Next time you want something extra good, pass up expensive meats and try a whole or half Sugardale sugar-cured Ham. It "goes right to the spot" every time.

Sugardale

Sugardale Bacon, too, is now cured by the special new sugar-cured process. It's so good it "melts in your mouth." Try it and you'll never go back to ordinary bacon again.

A full line of delicious meats are prepared the special Sugardale way—all tender and pure and with a zestful flavor all their own. Many are ready-cooked, ready to serve.

Teams Will Battle For County Court Title Tonight

TWO CONTESTS WILL END TOURNAMENT IN MARION AT Y.M.C.A.

Waldo and Wildcats Clash in Opener; Markert and Lewis To Play Martel

BY KARL R. M'ELROY
Sports Editor

Four outstanding amateur basketball teams of Marion County will battle at the Y. M. C. A. gym tonight for the Class A and B championships of the county.

The schedule in the final round of the tournament which started two weeks ago finds Waldo High playing the Marion Wildcats at 8 o'clock in the Class B contest and in the Class A event an hour later Markert and Lewis will tackle Martel Lion Tamers.

These four teams won their way into the final round after eliminating 12 other aggregations. Practically all contests were very close with but few one-sided scores resulting.

Marion Against County

Tonight's games will find Marion teams pitted against those of the county and it will really be a test between players of the city and of the smaller villages.

In the semi-final round the Waldo High School cagers defeated the fast First Reformed team of Marion. The Harding Hi-Y team was eliminated from the Class B events by the Marion Wildcats after the "Y" boys had led for three-quarters of the game.

The Class A contest will be one of the greatest basketball events ever staged on the Y. M. C. A. courts, finding practically the entire Harding High School squad of the past season playing with Markert and Lewis against the Martel Lion Tamers.

Martel Not Worried

This, however, does not seem to worry the Martel cagers. That team won the championship last year and are experienced in the ways of the cage game. As a matter of fact, it is considered a toss up just which team will take the title.

Both teams in the semi-final events eliminated strong teams with ease. Martel defeated Butler Aces while Markert and Lewis gave the Marion Business College an upset.

Winners of the two divisions will receive trophies, gold to Class A and silver to Class B.

READY FOR CHANCE AT TUNNEY

John Risko, Cleveland heavy, is primed for a battle with Gene Tunney. The former baker boy is conceded a chance to get an even break with the champ in many sections. Will he be the next opponent?

BOWLING RESULTS

Two Marion teams were able to emerge victorious last night in the Y. M. C. A. alleys after rolling teams from Delaware and Bucyrus.

The Marion women defeated Delaware by a margin of 17 pins while Bradley Drugs won over Bucyrus by 186 pins.

BROOKLYN ROBINS GET GOOD PITCHING AND WIN

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 30—The Brooklyn Robins are now getting better pitching than any other big league team. The Robins trimmed the Braves again at Miami yesterday, 2 to 1, Elliot and Ehrhardt allowing but five hits. Brooklyn also got but five bingles off Goldsmith and Robertson, the Boston pitchers, but the Robin safeties included a homer by Gonk Hendrick and a triple by Butch Henline.

The third game of the series will be played here today.

PECKINPAUCH SELECTING RESERVE INDIAN INFIELD

New Orleans, March 30—With his outfield practically decided upon, Manager Peckinpaugh of the Cleveland Indians, is confining his efforts to picking the infield reserve. In today's games with the New Orleans Pelicans, he planned to start Hodapp at third, Land at short, Ward at second and Bolton at first.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At Cleveland — Tommy Freeman, Cleveland welterweight, kayoed Willie Narmon, New York (3).

Pete Zivic, Pittsburgh, drew with Steve Nugent, Cleveland's bantamweight (8).

Tommy Paul, Buffalo bantamweight, outpointed Tommy Uerto, Chicago (6).

Maxie Strub, Erie, Pa., lightweight, kayoed Russell Bradford, Pontiac, Mich. (1).

At Youngstown — Dick Evans, Youngstown middleweight, won decision over Pinky Mitchell, Milwaukee (10).

Philadelphia — Jake Kilrane, California heavyweight, stopped Gene Jeannette, Norristown, Pa. (7).

Ralph Smith, California heavyweight, knocked out Jack Rozier, Philadelphia (2).

Mike Curry, Philadelphia, kayoed Bob Scalfaro, Germantown (2).

Al Patterson, N. J.—Locke Bauman, Paterson, won decision over Bennie Hill, St. Louis (10).

Mickey Connolly, Passaic, won from Willie Johnson, Memphis, Tenn. (10).

MEET TONIGHT

New York, March 30—Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash., and Joe Scholtz of Dayton, Ohio, rival contenders for Tommy Loughran's light heavyweight crown, are scheduled to throw leather at each other for 10 rounds here tonight. Because of his knockout record and Scholtz experience Lomski is 9 to 5 favorite. Neither man has ever been knocked out.

"POP" FOSTER GETS CREDIT FOR SUCCESS OF JIMMY M'LARNIN

"Crazy Right Hand" Brings Criticism to Manager, but Wins for Irishman

Chicago, March 30—When Jimmy McLarnin, America's latest fistic sensation, fights there is always a short, bald-headed man with snapping blue eyes directing his activities.

He is "Pop" Foster, Jimmy's manager and the man who taught him how to box.

Foster is alone credited with McLarnin's success. He spent many hours with the young Irish Vancouver, B. C. and Oakland, California, teaching him the manly art. Hour after hour Foster drilled the little Irishman in developing the left hook and right cross, two of any fighter's most important stocks in trade.

McLarnin's sensational knockouts of two outstanding boxers, Sid Terris, New York's "ghost of the ghetto," and "Kid" Kaplan, a lightweight now but formerly world's featherweight champion, are personal triumph for Foster. For many months on the Pacific coast Foster was subjected to the most bitter criticism.

Faced Criticism

Fighters, managers, promoters and newspaper writers all joined in the tirade against him. One writer charged in print that McLarnin was badly managed. Another called Foster an "old fool" and a third said he was not giving Jimmy enough to eat.

A year ago, after showing a bright future as a flyweight and bantamweight, McLarnin, sport writers said, "went into a decline." Foster was charged with his downfall. It was said he had turned Jimmy into a boy "right hand crazy;" wouldn't feed his baby-faced charge anything but vegetables and "had ruined a good boy with old-time foolishness."

For a time McLarnin was refused fights at the leading clubs and was forced to box in second rate affairs. Then he came to Chicago, late in 1927, and staggered boxing fans with a sensational kayo of Kaplan. His one-round knockout of Terris recently in New York by the way of the "Crazy" right hand, which only patient training for a period of years developed in at first a purely left-hand boxer, put Foster on top of 1928 pugilism and in a position to engage in a little glee at the expense of his numerous coast critics.

McLarnin's first appearance as a professional boxer was in 1924 in Oakland, when he fought a four-round bout as a bantamweight. He was then only 15 or 16 years old. Foster had turned in his age as 18, the age required by the California boxing law. Later when it was discovered the tiny Irishman was under age he was barred from boxing for a period.

Among McLarnin's most important coast battles were those against Bud Taylor, now acknowledged outside of New York as world's bantamweight champion. In one of his fights with Taylor, Manager Foster tried to induce Jimmy to use his right hand more frequently. The critics then said Foster had his protege "right hand crazy" and chalked up his defeat by Taylor to Foster's instruction.

His method of "cocking" his right hand for a quick right across was first used by the lightweight sensation in this bout with Taylor. It was this same punch that won for McLarnin his quick kayo victory over Terris.

YANKS DROP CONTEST TO BUFFALO BISONS, 3 TO 2

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 30—The losing streak of the New York Yankees has been so prolonged that it is no longer funny to their owner or to the fans back in the big town. Their second consecutive defeat by the Buffalo Bisons yesterday, 3 to 2, gave them a record of nine defeats in ten starts.

The world's champions will pack their grips today and head west for a tour of the minor league belt.

THREE BACKWARD

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 30—Having left their camp at Augusta, the New York Giants will take on the local minor league team today. Pitchers Barnes, Cantwell and Fitzsimmons were left with the second team in the warmer climes around Atlanta, as all three are backward in their training and need sunshine and work.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

M'GRAW IS MAKING SUPREME ATTEMPT TO WIN 1928 FLAG

Giant Team Being Driven Unusually Hard in Training Camps

New York, March 30—It is apparent to all who have visited the training camp of the New York Giants at Augusta that John J. McGraw is about to make the supreme effort of his career in the 1928 National League pennant race. McGraw, they say, is driving his present squad harder than he has any other since those dear, dead days at Marlin, Tex., when he had those hard boiled squads of his and the only diversion in town was work.

McGraw tipped his hand this year well before the active training season started when he appeared at Hot Springs in order to take charge of the early conditioning of his batterymen. Baseball entered little, if at all, into the scheme of things there.

At Hot Springs

All the boys were expected to do was to take the baths, eat sparingly, sleep according to the clock, and climb those mountain trails in order to strengthen their legs and wind.

John wanted to be there to see that they did so. It isn't necessary to add that they did. Ball players from other clubs were there, amusing themselves as pleased their fancy but it was the Spartan life for the Giants from first to last.

McGraw also had Melvin Ott at the Springs in order to try him out at second base. He gave Melvin much of his attention and possibly a piece of his mind, from time to time.

At the Augusta camp, John has been sitting right on top of the situation all the time, rushing out to the box in the middle of a practice game to tip some young pitcher to something or to one of the bases in order to complain, at first hand, to some player who had just been found guilty of bad base running.

He spent hours at the plate, batting to his pitchers. And it might be mentioned that McGraw still can drop a ball just about any place he selects. However, the old boy is getting along in years and after hours of this sort of thing, he is more weary than the young men he has been chasing around.

Likes To Win

To those close to him, it is no secret that successive failures since 1924 have bitten deeply under McGraw skin. No man in the game likes to win more than John does and he had set his heart on turning up another champion on the occasion of his twenty-fifth anniversary as a manager. He thought, too, that Hornsby would make him win last year but apparently it wasn't in the deck.

So, once again, McGraw is in there giving the thing the old college try, for term satisfied that his days as a winning manager are over.

Robert G. Kinsey, former Californian, will play as a member of the Mexican tennis team in the sectional matches against the American Davis Cup team. He has been a resident of Mexico for several years.

14 AMERICAN HORSES ENTERED IN CLASSIC ENGLISH RACE EVENT

"Billy Barton" Has Received Most Publicity Before Grand National Steeplechase

Aintree Race Course, Liverpool, Eng., March 30—Tipperary Tim won the Grand National Steeplechase here this afternoon. Billy Barton, an American bred horse and owned by Howard Bruce of Baltimore, ran second.
Only two horses finished.

Aintree Race Course, Liverpool, England, March 30—The large number of American entries and the numerous American tourists who flocked to the fair gave a strong American flavor to the classic Grand National Steeplechase here today.

Many hours before post time—1:30 p. m.—turf enthusiasts were pouring in the roadways leading to the course. The rain was heavy, many American and English American bred horses throughout rather than judgment.

Among the 14 American horses entered in the race, Billy Barton, the "hope of Baltimore," has received the most publicity. Billy Barton owned by Howard Bruce, was shipped to England several months ago to become acclimated and has run in a number of races without any spectacular success. He came to England with a record which he justified by winning his first race on this side and every race afterwards and dropped in public favor. He was prepared especially for the Grand National by the Hon. Aubrey Hastings, who trains for King George.

Piles Disappear Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned what quick and permanent relief can be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in hundreds of cases with a marvelous record of success, such a wonderful record that HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Henney & Cooper today. It has given quick and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you or money back.—Adv.

New Sport Is Being Given Try In Chicago

By FRANK G. MENKE

NOT so long ago I collided with Norman Ross in Chicago. No one really can go to Chicago without bumping into Norman Ross. He's about the general size and contour of Jess Willard—when Jess was younger.

Norman was quite a swimmer in his earlier years. But the League of Nations halted his career. Every country that had a seaport frequently suffered from tidal waves. Long search as to the cause revealed Norman Ross in the villain role. For it developed that whenever Norman took a dive the displacement of water sent huge waves hurtling around the world to dash finally upon some innocent and unsuspecting beach.

"Whatcha doin' now?" I asked Normon Ross.

"Kind of dabbling around in the jai alai (pronounced hi-li) racket out at Fred Mann's Rainbo Fronton," responded Ross. "C'mon out and get a system full of thrills."

So I went out and Norman Ross pared me in a "ringside box." On one side was the former Irene Castle, who made the bob what it is today, and on the other was Al Jolson and Bobby Crawford.

Jolson There

I knew it was Jolson even before I got close enough to him to see his frontspiece. For Jolson is the kind that gets a whoop out of almost anything—and who always whoops and hurrahs with great gusto and eclat. At the moment of my entrance Jolson was in full voice.

"OW — WOW — YOW —B-R-R-R — HEY — Hey — Atta baby — allez oop", murmured Jolson, as the walls shimmied and shivered under the caress of his voice. Then Jolson dashed from the box, cashed his tickets on the winning jai-alai player, returned in high glee and carolled:—

"Wotta game — wotta game."

For a while Jolson was busy counting his money. After he had thumbed over six hatfuls, he grew tired of the task and wrapped the balance in three newspapers.

"And to think," commented Jolson, "that this thing has been going on for 150 years without my knowing about it."

Originated in Spain

Jai Alai originated in the Basque Country in Spain. It finally spread to Cuba. From there it looped the loop to Florida, and New Orleans, after which Fred Mann decided to give it a tryout in Chicago. The folks there weren't so sure they'd like it at first. But now they are busting onto the premises nightly in ever increasing numbers.

Jai Alai is much like hand ball. It is played on a huge court, — one about three or four times the size of an average hand ball court. A small hard ball is used. But instead of batting the ball with their hands the players catch it in a sort of long horned scoop.

The play is fast and furious — especially in the doubles matches, and of course, the mob is carried along by the excitement and the thrill of it and proceeds to deal out its salvos of cheers in constant volume.

On a later evening I met up with Jolson again. He was in the same box — but not the same mood.

"I have just learned," spoke Al, of the blackface, a bit mournfully, "that a guy can pick just as many losers here as he can on a horse track."

"I'm two days ahead of you in that knowledge, "I told him, and then I asked: "How did you come to learn that?"

"By experience," explained Jolson tearing up a week's wages worth of tickets.

When the tumult and the shouting had died and play was done Norman Ross loomed up in the offing — like Pike's Peak.

"Ought to be a little story for you in this game, hey?" mused Norman Ross.

"Yeah, — but maybe you and Fred Mann might get all frothy if I wrote it."

"Nix — nix — we aren't that kind of people, — not us," answered Norman Ross "Write what you think — that's our slogan. By the way, what do you think?"

"That it's pretty much of a brother-in-law game," I told Norman Ross. "And furthermore," I added, "if a bird insists upon betting on your noble athletes he should discard the form chart and such and put eight numbers in a hat, draw out—one—and bet on that dude."

"Hah," scoffed Jolson. "I know a better one than that." Jolson paused, tore up many, many tickets — and resumed: "Yeah, I know a better system. Put eight numbers in a hat — one to represent each singles player or each team. And then — then — THROW AWAY the hat."

novelties who wants to fight. I should say, offhand, that one more victory in defense of the title will prove about all brother Tunney needs to put himself over like a canopy, more or less.

To Come North

It is learned today from Mr. Hannigan that the champion is coming north on April 15 and immediately will begin action training for the big fight with Windmill or McLuke, depending upon which of the two proves to be the more meritorious. It was learned today from Mr. Will Gibson, whose still, small voice sometimes is raised in behalf of brother Tunney strictly in the latter's absence, that there probably will be one Tunney fight this summer, regardless of official edicts.

He is convinced of this fact, he says, first, because brother Tunney will consider himself fortunate in finding one man to fight, and, second, because Rickard is interested in promoting just one fight.

"Say what you want about him," was Will's summation. "Rickard is the only man to put the thing over."

This, provided it is representative of brother Tunney's view of the situation, might come under the head of very interesting data to Jack Fugazy and Jim Mullen.

"BLOND GHOST" BIG HELP TO ATHLETICS, MANY FANS BELIEVE

Ossie Orwoll Gives Connie Mack's Team New Conception of Speed

Fort Myers, Fla., March 30—Training camp fans believe they have learned why Ossie Orwoll, the expensive piece of baseball bric-a-brac the Athletics bought from Milwaukee was nicknamed the "Blond Ghost." When Ossie flits over the greensward or flies around the bases in a Mack traveling uniform he resembles a grey, streaking shadow of ghostly dimensions.

Ossie was a 10-second man at college, and only two years out of his alma mater, he sails over the terra firma like his Viking Norse ancestors sailed over the seven seas. Orwoll has given the A's a new conception of speed.

And yet it is not his speed that is most impressive to the wise and knowing old heads that shape the plans of the Mackian strategy. Connie Mack, Kid Gleason, and Ira Thomas rave about his "form," his grace and manner. Orwoll, they chirp handles himself with perfect form.

Always Balanced

Lithe and slender, though he weighs about 170 pounds, the westerner is always balanced. A born ball hawk, Orwoll seems capable of filling any position that one handles so efficiently and brilliantly by catcher Mickey Cochrane.

Having already played regularly at first base, the outfield and on the pitching knoll, either in college, on the sand lots or in the minors, Orwoll has worked out at second, short and third base here in camp. At each position he has shown himself a fast and almost flawless fielder and displayed an arm of steel.

The same grace that distinguishes his actions on the field, he carries into the batters' box. Orwoll has a graceful swing and like a few other of the game's greatest stars looks good even when he fails to connect.

Connie Mack just at present is figuring on the westerner as the third southpaw of his hurling staff. In the box he is not quite so impressive as he is in the field. His fast ball is not quite as explosive as Lefty Grove's or Walberg's. But he has good control and seems able to work the corners with more than passing accuracy.

Orwoll is of the second American-born generation of a family of Norse ancestry. Son of a Lutheran minister, Ossie was born in Portland, Ore. When he was only a few months old his family moved to Sioux Falls, South Dakota, where his father was pastor of a church. It was there that the new Mack star became noted as a scholastic athlete.

In School Days

He played first base during his school days and also at a normal school in Sioux Falls, and when the war came along enlisted in the 47th Field Artillery of the 16th Division. He was in the service for 11 months without getting overseas. Discharged he enrolled at Luther College, the same institution that had graduated his father in 1895.

Orwoll was a four-letter man at college, being a member of the track, baseball, football and basketball teams. It was here that he first blossomed forth as a pitcher, alternating his first two years between the mound and first base and the last two between the mound and the outfield.

From college he drifted into semi-pro ranks, played a month in the Dakota League and returning to independent baseball at La Crosse, Wis., signed with the Milwaukee Brewers in the fall of 1925.

There are three kinds of hospitals in England—voluntary, municipal (which are the isolation hospitals), and poor-law infirmaries.

BASKETBALL LETTER IS EIGHTH AWARD TO BE GIVEN ATHLETE

Wayne Blough Sets Unusual Record During Sport Season at Wooster College

Wooster, March 30—When basketball awards were passed out at Wooster College a few days ago, it was the eighth major sport award which Wayne "Pete" Blough has earned at Wooster. His ninth, in baseball, depends on whether or not his injured knee recovers. Blough was injured in the Mt. Union basketball game when Simpson, Mount player crashed into Pete to keep him from making a short shot. The lateral ligaments on both sides of his right knee were torn and he has been on crutches most of the time since.

Athletes at Wooster, who earn nine letters in football, basketball and baseball are few. Blough starred as quarterback and was given All-Ohio honors by many sport writers. He played forward in basketball and was a pitcher or outfielder in baseball.

Don Starn, a cousin of Blough's, was the only athlete in recent years to have the same record. Starn also won his letter throwing the discus for the track team one season. Ben Roderick was the only other athlete, in the Boles' regime at Wooster, to win letters in all major sports at Wooster.

Dull—Unfit

Watch a sparkling drink change things in an hour

Often men and women rise in the morning feeling dull and unfit, because the system is clogged. The poisons and wastes depress them.

There are long and short ways to a remedy, but the shortest and pleasantest is this:

Drink a glass of water on rising, either hot or cold. Add a little "Epsonade." It will make a sparkling, pleasant drink, that will flush the intestines. Note the radical change in an hour.

The results come from acids derived from lemon and grapes. And they are at your command every hour of the day.

Learn what "Epsonade" means to you. It may save you countless hours of depression. All druggists supply "Epsonade" at small cost.—Adv.

PROGRESS IS MADE IN W. CENTER-ST WORK

Sewers Partially Completed Project Temporarily Held Up by Rain

Rain yesterday and today halted work on the sanitary and storm water sewers being built on W. Center-st, as a part of the paving project. The sewers have been completed from Leader-st to the Hocking Valley tracks and work has started on the section from Leader-st east to Oak-st, the terminus of the paving.

All of the trees, with the exception of one in front of the George Copeland residence, which is being used as an anchor for a guy wire from the huge hoist on the new theater site, have been removed along the proposed paving.

Light Posts Removed

The light standards on the north side of the street have also been removed by the C. D. & M. Electric Co. from the Hocking Valley tracks to Oak-st. This side of the street will be without lights until after the completion of the paving on the north side of the street, when the lights which will form a new white way will be installed.

The standards on the south side of the street will be removed when work is started there, but not until after the new lights have been installed on the north side. It has been estimated by C. D. & M. officials that the new light system will not be completed before July 1. No charge will be made however, for those of the new lights to be installed on the north side of the street, until after the entire system is completed.

ASPIRIN

For sore throat, there's a swift and sure way to soothe away the inflammation. Every singer knows the secret! Dissolve Bayer Aspirin tablets in pure water, and gargle. Nothing in the whole realm of medicine is more helpful in cases of sore throat. And you probably know how Aspirin dispels a headache; breaks up colds, relieves rheumatic pain, neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago! Just make certain to get genuine Bayer Aspirin; it has Bayer on the box, and on each tablet. All druggists, with proven directions.

For TONSILITIS and SORE THROAT

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart

COMMISSION FIGHT

Final Battle Over Radio Board Personnel Reaches Senate

Washington, March 30—A final battle over the personnel of the Federal Radio Commission reached the floor of the Senate today as administration leaders sought confirmation of the appointments of Orestes H. Caldwell of New York, Harold A. Lafount of Utah, and Sam Pickard of Kansas. A fourth member, Ira E. Robinson of West Virginia, was named yesterday, but thus far no opposition to him has appeared.

The fight centered around the naming of Caldwell, who was under fire as a "friend of the radio trust." Pickard also was subjected to attacks on the ground he was not a legal resident of Kansas, or in the midwestern district he is supposed to represent on the commission. There was little opposition, if any, to Lafount.

Sensational Advance Resumed With Prices Soaring

"NEW MONEY" USED IN SALES

Small Expansion Is Noted in Speculative Borrowings After Heavy Week

Markets at a Glance

Railroad stocks, strong; industrial stocks, strong; domestic bonds, strong; foreign bonds, steady; call money, 5 per cent; grain, steady; copper, strong; oil, firm; cotton, irregular; rubber, firm; sugar, steady; pig iron, firm; foreign exchange, irregular.

New York, March 30—Resuming today the sensational advance which had been side-tracked in a day or two of "permaney," the leaders in Wall Street's most famous bull market crashed and smashed their way to higher price levels today in one of the most active markets of this remarkable series.

Bulls in the stock market took the bit in their teeth when the weekly reserve board report showed an expansion of only $46,600,000 in speculative borrowings, whereas a gain of $150,000,000 might easily have been expected considering the character of the week's trading.

The explanation lies in the fact that "new money" rather than bank borrowings, is financing the most spectacular bull movement in the memory of the present generation in Wall Street. It was also noted that Tuesday's crash has wiped out most of the stop-losses and cleaned out the weak spots, greatly improving the technical position of the whole market.

Heavy calling of loans in preparation of the April quarterly financing and the rise of the call loan rate to five per cent checked the ardor of the bullish forces in the fourth hour, but the retreating bears in International Nickel and other closely held speculative "pets" found most of their avenues of escape cut off as prices were made to soar to new high levels.

General Electric's new rise to 156 1-2, a gain of more than 10 points since yesterday noon, was largely in recognition of the increasing value of its stock holdings in Radio Corporation, which has risen nearly 800 per cent in the last six months. Westinghouse Electric was in demand above 104 and International Nickel around 98. Corn Products, Kelvinator and other speculative favorites rose a point or two.

TODAY'S REVIEW OF YESTERDAY'S MARKET

Chicago, March 30—A late upturn carried wheat prices sharply higher yesterday, in the broadest trade that has been witnessed in the leading grain for some time. Reiteration of bullish crop indications in the territory east of the Mississippi river was the principal influence.

Foreign interests were credited with buying the new crop deliveries, which again moved into higher ground. There was a better interest in the May. Commission houses were active on both sides of the market. Closing prices were 1 5-8@1 7-8c higher, with the March at $1.44 1-4; May, $1.43 5-8; July, $1.42 5-8, and September, $1.40 1-4.

Corn had a strong tone and the market averaged higher most of the session. Early sellers covered in the late trade and prices rose sharply. Profit taking sales caused a moderate setback from the high points, but gains of 1 1-8@1 3-8c were registered. March closed at 99 7-8c; May, $1.01 1-2; July $1.04 1-8, and September, $1.04 1-4.

Oats Are Higher

Strength in corn ... firmer cash market and good ... offerings very light, turned ... upward. They finished ½ ... er. Rye moved up with wh... because of further export sales, closing with gains of 1¼@2¾c.

Scattered buying at the opening sent wheat prices moderately higher. However, the bulge attracted heavy profit taking, which continued through most of the session. Offerings were well taken, despite the heavy selling, and lowest prices were only ⅛c below the previous close. Buying orders increased as the day wore on, leading to the sharp closing bulge, which was finally checked by selling against the privileges.

Liverpool Strong

Foreign markets showed a fair response to the local upturn of the previous day. Liverpool was due 1½@1¾d higher, opened ⅞@1d up and closed ½@1¾d higher. Winnipeg advanced consistently with the local bulge and finished ⅞@1⅛c higher. Buenos Aires was unchanged to ⅛c higher at midday.

Crop news from the Southwest was more optimistic, but had little influence in the face of the buying enthusiasm and the extremely bullish indications from the soft wheat territory. Cloudy weather, with rain or snow, is forecast for the belt.

Cash wheat was unsettled, with the basis for hard and Spring grades unchanged to 1c easier, while red grades were ½@1c higher. Late in the day the sale of 10,000 bu No. 2 red to a miller at the highest premium on the crop, 27c over May price, was reported. Also No. 2 red sold in store at $1.66. Prices were 2c higher to 1c lower. Local sales, 5,000 bu; to store, 80,000 bu. Deliveries on March contracts, 194,000 bu.

Indians are taciturn because they long ago discovered there is nothing much to talk about. But a good many white men haven't discovered it yet.

PAIR PAYS PENALTY ON GALLOWS OF COLORADO

Canon City, Colo., March 30—Ray Noakes, 23, and Arthur Osborn, 24, slayers of Fred N. Selak, Grand Lake, Colo., hermit, went to their deaths on the gallows here early today.

Just as their victim met death, by hanging, in July, 1926, so did the two youths pay the supreme penalty, Noakes at 12:40 o'clock and Osborn at 1:15 o'clock this morning.

Colorado's automatic gallows, by which the convict hangs himself, were used.

A lot of perfectly good words have been ruined by being applied to disrespectable actions.

M. E. SABBACK FILES ACTION FOR DIVORCE

Unable To Restore Amicable Relations with Wife, Petition States

Stating that he has been unable to restore amicable relations with his wife since their separation June 20, 1925, Michael Elias Sabback has filed a petition in Common Pleas Court asking for a divorce from Amelia Sabback.

The couple were married Jan. 1, 1907 and are the parents of two children, Julius, 19, and Frederick, 15.

In his petition the plaintiff states that he and his wife entered into a written agreement nearly three years ago whereby he was to make a cash payment to the defendant of $3,000 and a monthly payment of $75 for her support. A further sum of $25 a month was to be paid by Sabback to his wife as rental on the house, belonging to the defendant, in which he lived.

Answer Is Filed

The Hocking Valley Railroad Co. filed an answer today to the damage suit brought by Jesse Cavinee, whose automobile was damaged in a crossing crash on W. Center-st, Nov. 8, 1926. The answer claims that Cavinee was negligent and did not take the precautions before crossing the tracks. Cavinee's Nash sedan which was struck by the locomotive of a freight train, was badly damaged in the collision.

Church Files Petition

The Universalist Church of Caledonia, through its board of trustees, has filed a petition in Common Pleas Court for permission to borrow, on first mortgage, $2,500 to be used in paying off indebtedness incurred in recent improvements to the church building.

The trustees of the church are T. J. Putman, E. S. Ault, H. H. Price, C. G. Francis, Annie Monnette, Myrtle Sickle, and Margaret Ludwig. The church is unincorporated.

Sale Order Sought

Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church of Marion, has filed a petition in Common Pleas Court for permission to sell real estate belonging to the church the proceeds to be used towards building cost and equipping the new church on E. Center-st.

Dismissal Asked

Denying all charges in the petition filed some time ago by Harry Quigley the Lennon Furniture Co. has filed an answer in Common Pleas Court asking that the petition be dismissed.

In his petition Quigley states that he was employed as a clerk in the Lennon store at a salary of $65 a week and that he was unjustly discharged. He further stated that he was unable to secure other employment for some time thereafter.

Loan Application

Application for authority to borrow $7,000 for payment of indebtedness of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church was filed in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday by the church trustees, John C. Bonen, John D. Jacobs, J. W. Kugler, John M. Quigley, Charles Lindsey, Russell McEvoy and Arthur Tyler.

Debt to be taken up by the proposed loan, the petition states, included a mortgage obligation of $4,000 and bills amounting to $2,500 for building repairs. The trustees state that the loan, if authorized by the court, will be negotiated with the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co.

The petition was filed through the law firm of Wiedemann & Patton.

Sues for Divorce

Desertion, gross neglect and extreme cruelty are charged against Harry Lenney in a petition for divorce filed against him in Common Pleas Court yesterday by his wife, Mary Lenney. She also asks for alimony and custody of their child, a daughter, aged nine years.

The petition alleges that Lenney has abandoned his wife and child on several occasions, never leaving them funds for support. On March 22 of this year, it is alleged, he returned home from Detroit, where he had been for some time, and assaulted his wife.

The suit was filed through the law firm of Carhart & Warner.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenney, the petition states, were married Nov. 6, 1917.
